Years After Armistice

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Another great European war, Anglo-American naval rivalry identical with pre-war Anglo-Germany rivalry, and danger of an Anglo-American clash over the freedom of the seas, if international affairs continue as they are nine years after the Armistice, were foreseen by Com. the Hon. J. H. Kenworthy, M. P., today, in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

Kenworthy, heir to the barony of Strabolgi, was on the admiralty staff during the war and is recognized as an authority on foreign affairs and naval policy. His recent book, "Peace or War," caused a stir throughout Europe.

"As Europe is going today there are bound to be further wars on the greatest scale," said Commander Kenworthy.

"There are today half a dozen danger spots in Europe. Any one

ARREST WOMAN IN FATAL AUTO CRASH

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Genevieve Graves, 38, wife of a prominent Hollywood druggist, was held in the county jail here today in connection with the death of Gus Houston, 52, quartermaster of the Urban Military Academy, victim of an automobile crash.

Mrs. Graves was arrested on suspicion of manslaughter charges early today after the automobile she was driving struck a Pacific Electric freight train, hurling Houston, a passenger in the machine, through the windshield. A silver of glass severed his jugular vein.

According to Hollywood police, Mrs. Graves jumped out of the machine, following the crash, and ran away. She was arrested a short time later in the Harold Lloyd studio, near the scene of the accident.

SONORA MAKES BID FOR DIVORCE TRADE

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Paris divorces are becoming increasingly expensive and Sonora, Mexico, now bids for the quick and easy divorce trade, the New York Telegram said today.

The paper named Mrs. Natalie Clews Peabody, George Cohan and Mrs. William Slaven McNutt as among 100 New Yorkers said to have obtained Sonora divorces. The article continued:

"Sonora offers divorces in a week or less, with few questions asked, no notification of the defending party required and only the sketchiest of residence qualifications. All Sonora asks is $2000 or $3000 or $5000, or whatever you can be persuaded to pay."

The Telegram named "Arthur Bull," formerly of Racine, Wis., as a man who has set up an office in New York and done a thriving trade in arranging such divorces. "Arturo Del Toro,"

Congress To Seek Curb
On Lobbyists

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Charges that a rich lobby is working here for repeal of the federal estate tax have revived congressional animosity toward the freedom enjoyed by lobbyists and brought promises that a bill will be introduced in the coming congress to curb the activity of paid legislative agents.

The form of the bills is undetermined but some, it is indicated, will be framed around the Wisconsin statute requiring registration of all lobbyists, with a public record of their salaries and interests.

The movement is sponsored by the Borah-Norris independent group in the senate and their friends in the house.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, is particularly aroused over the freedom given former members of the senate and house to be present on the floor during discussion of measures in which they are interested for personal profit. Many of the known lobbyists in Washington are former members of congress.

Brothers Face Prison Sen-

Each; To Appeal

(By United Press)

INDEPENDENCE, Calif., Nov. 11.—W. W. and Mark Q. Watterson, pioneer financial kings of Owens Valley, today faced maximum terms in prison of 135 years each, following their conviction last night for embezzlement in connection with the collapse of their five Inyo county banks.

The verdict of guilty was returned late last night in a dimly lighted courtroom before relatives and a few residents of the town, holding the two brothers responsible for wrecking their banks and causing shortages approximating a half million dollars.

An oral notice of motion for a new trial was made by defense council. The motion will be filed Monday, when the Wattersons will come before Superior Judge Robert Lambert for sentence on 35 counts of embezzlement and one of falsifying a bank statement. Meanwhile they are at liberty under

IDENTIFY 'SHADOWING' SLEUTHS

Burns Agents
Pass Before
12 Talesmen

Government Attorneys Decline to Announce If Detectives Known

By HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The 15 Burns detectives who recently shadowed Fall-Sinclair oil trial jurors ran the gamut of their former "subjects" today.

The sleuths, one by one, faced all 12 jurors seated around a room.

Government attorneys who staged the affair decline to say whether identifications were made by jurors and the detectives themselves were not notified.

Add Finishing Touches

The government today put the finishing touches on its network of grand jury evidence designed to disclose a jury tampering conspiracy.

Indictments, if voted, will come early next week, it is anticipated.

Harry F. Sinclair and two of his lieutenants, Mason Day and Sheldon Clark, are believed most likely to be named. All three already are charged in government complaints with conspiracy to obstruct justice through jury tampering.

May Include Detectives

There is a possibility, however, that a "blanket indictment" may include also some Burns detective agency officials and operatives as a result of the intensive shadowing of the trial jurors.

Four of five Burns agents were to appear before the grand jury today. Several newsmen, who heard William J. Burns, detective chief, make a statement Monday setting forth evidence which he said indicated government jury tampering, also may be called.

WARSZAWA, Poland, Nov. 11.—Thirty-nine arrests have been made following discovery of an extensive plot to overthrow the Lithuanian government, dispatches from Kovno declared today.

The arrests were made at Wilkomirska, it was said, after investigation in 10 towns had revealed plans for the revolt.

Four of the arrested men are to be court-martialed.

An arms depot was found near the Latvian frontier.

Soviet Delegates
Will Be Guarded
At Arms Meeting

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Swiss authorities have received information from abroad, the Exchange Telegraph, Geneva correspondent wired today, which has led them to take rigorous precautions to guard Soviet delegates to the preparatory disarmament commission, meeting here November 30.

The correspondent said that a private hotel would be reserved for the delegates and that a strong force of detectives would be on guard constantly.

It is expected that Foreign Minister Tchitcherin, or a spokesman of the Russian delegation, will head the

BY BRUCE CATTON

A bugle rings beyond the stars
And stirs the ghosts the cannon laid;
And phantom ranks from all our wars
Step in time to the plaintive bars—
"Hats off! the dead are on parade!"

Again we hear the rolling beat
Of distant drum taps, far removed,
And tinkle to the tramp of feet—
That tread again the home-town street—
"The boys we lost, the boys we loved."

A hush descends as they go by,
Silent, with unregarding eyes;
Then, ringing clear to the empty sky,
Sounds the despairing, echoing cry—
"How do you honor our sacrifice?"

How shall we honor them—what can we do for them?
Showing our love for the men that are gone?
Build up a cenotaph, shining and new for them?
Raise up a tablet of finely-carved stone?

Here is the word from the ghostly ranks
Telling us how we may show our thanks!

"We went to our rest while life was young,
And many the joys we missed—

There were songs of youth that we left unsung,
There was honey of life for the tip of the tongue,

There were sweethearts we might have kissed.

"But our part is done; and you that remain
Harken to this, our warning:

See that our sacrifice be not in vain.

See that America, ever again.

Works for the world's new morning.

"We ask for no temple of graven stone,
Pay us this homage, instead;

Keep freedom aloft on her golden throne,

With justice and truth to guard her alone—

Thus honor your soldier dead!"

Then, in the haze of the far stars' light,
The phantom battalions pass from sight,
And the call of the bugles rings out through the night;

Lights out!

Soldier, sleep.

GILES DETERMINED TO HOP TOMORROW

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—With the weather bureau warning of possible rain tonight and Saturday, Capt. Frederick Giles today reiterated his determination to take off at dawn tomorrow for Honolulu.

Test flights have demonstrated the airworthiness of his plane, the Hess-Bluebird biplane "Wanda" and only minor adjustments remain to be made. Captain Giles said today

LEGIONNAIRES ARE HOSTS
AT NINTH ORANGE COUNTY
ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM

Parade of War Veterans, Floats, Bands
Feature of Southland's Greatest Peace Observance

GRID CONTEST BIG ATTRACTION

THOUSANDS of persons from all sections of Southern California gathered in Fullerton this morning to help Orange county celebrate the ninth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice. A stupendous array of floats, bands and marching units started to pass in review before a crowd estimated at more than 30,000 persons promptly at 11 o'clock this morning. All Orange county banded together to make the affair the greatest of its kind ever held in Southern California.

Leahy hosts of World war veterans, the parade opened the all-day celebration.

Floats, depicting historic incidents connected with the history of the United States, offered the main attraction this morning. Awards for the various floats will be made later this afternoon or tonight.

All-Day Affair

The Fullerton post of the American Legion, which is in charge of the program, has made an all-day affair of the Armistice day celebration this year. A huge barbecue lunch cared for the hungry thousands at noon.

A football game between Fullerton and Anaheim high school teams, patriotic addresses by nationally known speakers, fireworks displays and dancing were to carry the celebration late into the night.

Legionnaires from all parts of Orange county have assisted the Fullerton Legion post in staging the most elaborate Armistice day celebration ever held in the Southland. Floats in the huge parade represented practically every civic organization and every city in Orange county.

Preparations for the affair had been under way for months. This afternoon city parks in Fullerton are crowded by thousands of persons listening to concerts offered by the Southland's leading bands. Thousands are watching a crucial Orange county football contest on the Fullerton high school gridiron.

GOTHAM IN GREAT
WELCOME TO RUTH

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Cruelty was named as the grounds for divorce in a complaint on file here today in which Joyelle Joyner, 20, dancer and cinema actress, seeks separation from her husband, Dudley V. Brand.

The dancer and her husband reached the climax of marital discord early last month when Brand is alleged to have invaded his wife's home. Several shots were fired and the actress was slightly wounded in the arm. Brand later was arrested but released when Miss Joyner declined to prosecute.

The shooting incident was not part of the divorce proceedings, Miss Joyner setting forth other alleged cruelties prior to the affair.

CRASH ENDS BELGIAN FLIGHT

WILL ARRAIGN YOUNG TALBERT ON SATURDAY

Gordon Talbert, 24, whose answer to arraignment on a charge of driving while intoxicated has been continued twice, following the reduction of the charge from that of murder, is scheduled again to appear before Superior Judge E. J. Marks tomorrow at 9:30 a.m.

The death of Floyd Covert, 45, last July, as a result of Talbert's car crashing into a tree, is the basis of the charge. The pair are rumored to have been drinking before the ride began in which Covert met his death.

His widow, Mrs. Hattie Covert, signed the murder complaint at the preliminary hearing before Justice Chris Pann, of Huntington Beach, the complaint was reduced to the liquor charge when the decision was made by the court that there was no evidence of intent to kill on Talbert's part.

WATTERSONS WILL APPEAL CONVICTION

$25,000 bail each.

The trial was one of the most dramatic in the history of the south. The prosecutor, District Attorney Jess Hession, was a life long friend of the two brothers and at one time had served as their attorney in private matters. He asked for conviction, telling the jury that the WATTERSONS, by their acts, had defrauded hundreds of their neighbors.

For many years the WATTERSONS have been the financial and industrial leaders of the valley and were champions of Inyo county in the "water war" between the Los Angeles water board and residents of the valley. Efforts to introduce the water problem into the trial failed, Judge Lambert ruling that testimony of such a nature was inadmissible.

NO TRACE OF WIFE FOUND BY PASTOR

CLAREMONT, N. H., Nov. 11.—Re-enforced by American Legionnaires, mill workers and school children, posse today renewed search for Mrs. Dascomb E. Forbush, wife of a Canandaigua, N. Y., minister, believed hiding in the woods near here.

The woman's husband, personally directing the search, returned to his hotel here early this morning after a fruitless all-night hunt in the vicinity of Claremont Junction.

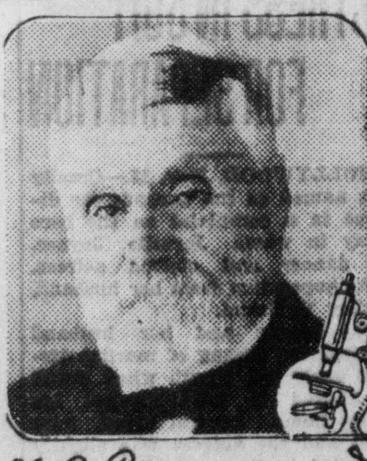

Snatching only a few hours' sleep, the Rev. Mr. Forbush resumed the search shortly after 8 a.m.

FAIRY CRIMINAL ATTORNEY PASSES

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 11.—The defense of James Wingfield, Greenhorn mountaineer, on trial for the murder of Anton Marius, a neighbor, following an alleged quarrel over a dog, today was without the services of E. J. Emmons, 68, prominent criminal lawyer, who yesterday collapsed in the courtroom and died last night.

Emmons, who has been the master mind behind defendants in 110 California murder cases, in which he secured 90 acquittals, suffered an acute gastric attack, brought on, physicians said, by overwork in the Wingfield defense, which has endeavored to impeach two state witnesses against the mountaineer.

Millions of Families Depend on Dr. Caldwell's Prescription

Dr. J. B. Caldwell, M.D., at age 83.

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875 the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic purges and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their systems. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation which he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and if you will once start using it you will always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the genuine bottles.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin" Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you pre-paid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Four Injured, Two Probably Fatally, In Crossing Crash

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11.—Four residents of San Bernardino were injured, two perhaps fatally, here early today when the automobile in which they were riding was hit by a Southern Pacific freight engine at a boulevard crossing. Sam Thomason, driver of the machine, and Ethel Christopher, his companion, were rushed to General hospital suffering from skull fractures which doctors believed would result in their deaths. Thomason also received a broken hip and a broken arm.

R. J. Bizer and Mabel Cherry, riding in the rear seat, were less seriously injured. Both of Bizer's legs were broken and the girl received cuts and bruises.

JUDGMENT FOR $26,639 GOES TO SANTA ANA

C. F. Mitchell, of Santa Ana, had today been awarded judgment for $26,639.14 against R. E. Millman and J. H. Mitchell on the admission of a suit for the foreclosure of two mortgages in this city.

The court action before Superior Judge Homer G. Ames arose over two promissory notes secured by the property in question as collateral. A three year note for $11,500, said to have been made to the Orange County Trust and Savings bank and later assigned to the plaintiff, was involved. The interest had not been paid on this paper since last March, according to Wilson. The principal was due on March 10, it was declared.

The loan was secured by a mortgage on seven and one-half acres of local property.

Another note, which is said to have expired unpaid on March 27 of this year, was originally made to Lottie Palmer and assigned to Wilson. This loan was made to Mitchell, it was claimed, and secured by a mortgage on 10 acres of Santa Ana property.

C. D. Swanner represented the plaintiff and L. A. West and Stanley Reinhause handled the case for the defendants.

YOUTHFUL COWBOYS CURBED BY POLICE

The adventurous career of a band of "Wild and woolly" cowboys from the "plains" of Santa Ana was brought to an abrupt halt last night by Police Officers Perry and Peterson. A number of young lariat throwers, probably spellbound by the adventures of some hero of the plains, last night started an eventful career.

Armed with cloths, tow ropes and other available lasso material the youths stationed themselves behind trees and spent the evening roping passersby.

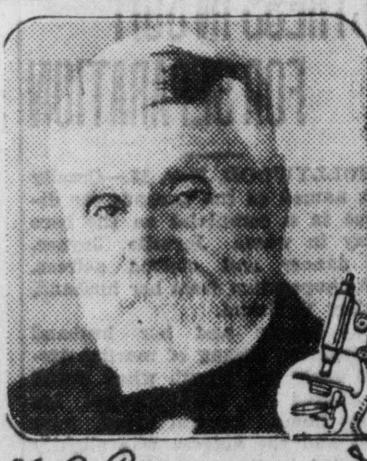

The excitement ended when one over-exuberant "cowboy" tossed a rope around the neck of a girl, whose name was not learned. A scream split the air.

W. J. Julian, a nearby resident told the police. The would-be "cowboys" promised to do no more roping and went home bed.

Passage Of Tax Measure Before Christmas Sought

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Passage of a tax reduction measure and alien property bill before Christmas will be sought by house leaders, it was announced today by Speaker of the House Longworth on his return to the capital. The bill, however, cannot be taken up by the house until after Christmas because of the delay in the army engineers report which will be used as a basis for a bill.

SECOND ARREST CLEAR COUNTY TURKEY THEFTS

Uncovering of a turkey thief operating in Orange and Los Angeles counties loomed here today with the capture by deputy sheriffs of another confessed turkey thief, it was reported today by F. W. Howard, T. E. Lebel, 20, of Stanton, alleged accomplice of H. B. Via, of Stanton who yesterday confessed to stealing more than 100 turkeys valued at $800, appeared at the sheriffs office last night and surrendered to officers.

Lebel, according to officers, admitted the theft of nearly 100 more turkeys and took officers to ranches scattered over Orange county where the turkeys were stolen. According to Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff F. W. Howard, Lebel stole seven turkeys and 36 chickens from the R. E. Landrum ranch at Talbert and Garden Grove roads; 16 turkeys from the E. G. Radford ranch at Bolsa, and six turkeys from the Parks ranch near Cypress.

The turkeys were all recovered on the Via ranch at Stanton, Howard reported and many of the fowls have been identified by their owners.

Both Lebel and Via are facing charges of grand theft. The confession of Lebel cleared up most of the remaining turkeys thefts which have been puzzling deputy sheriffs for some time. Via was arrested yesterday in Long Beach and confessed to stealing more than 100 turkeys in different sections of Orange county, including 68 turkeys from the Will Paulas ranch near Olive.

Information leading to the arrest of both men came from Constance Barnett of Cypress who noticed the unusual number of turkeys on the Via ranch.

COTTON RALLIES ON NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The cotton market rallied approximately $1 a bale during the early trading today in response to the higher Liverpool cables, but later in the session lost most of the early gains as a result of renewed long liquidation. Trading, however, was quiet and movements were somewhat narrower than recently. Liverpool cables rallied about 10 English points before the local opening. This was attributed to the reports of cooler weather in the south and to the appearance of better support from foreign trade interest. Weather in the south was somewhat less favorable than recently. Cooler weather was reported in the western belt and the official forecast predicted cooler weather overnight.

At Stanton, the passengers on board the President Hayes said, friends of Manning and his wife endeavored to bring about a reconciliation, but were unsuccessful.

After consulting attorneys, Mrs. Manning took passage on the President Hayes from Shanghai. Manning left Shanghai on the steamer Empress for Hong Kong, where he is believed to be at the present time. Mrs. Manning's passage to Genoa, Italy, from where she intends to fly to Paris.

The Mannings engaged in violent altercations and physical encounters while the President McKinley was between Kobe and Shanghai, according to passengers. They said Mrs. Manning was forced one night of lee from their suite and take refuge with the captain of the vessel while passengers guarded against further trouble.

Huntington Park—Veterans of Civil War to be guests of veterans of all wars, who will aid American Legion celebration. Two football games and a grand ball also were planned.

Glendale—Parade of war veterans and school children.

Dinuba—American Legion's new drum and bugle corps to make first appearance.

Aracada—Parade and meetings.

Lincoln's Last Check

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—A check for $800, believed to be the last written by Abraham Lincoln, is on display here. It was made out to "self" and cashed the day before the President's assassination.

Hubby Requests Million In Love Alienation Suit

WACO, Tex., Nov. 11.—Claiming alienation of his wife's affections, Willard R. Wigley, prominent young Waco business man, has filed suit for $1,000,000 in district court here against Pio Crespi, president of Crespi and company, a well known Dallas, Tex., cotton brokerage firm.

Last Saturday Mrs. Wigley was granted a divorce from Wigley in district court here. Wigley was awarded custody of their two small children. On the same day Mrs. Louise Crespi was granted a divorce here from Crespi. Both divorces were granted on the grounds of cruel treatment.

its supremacy.

But as the last mournful note was sounded, joy once more prevailed. Celebrations were planned by almost every city. Speeches, athletic contests, civic events, parades and various other features made up the programs.

All Nations Parade

Fulerton held Orange county's "Flags of All Nations Parade," a spectacular event, this morning. A barbecue event, this morning, a football game and a band concert.

The "melting pot" influence on our educational institutions was featured in Inglewood's morning parade, school children in costume making the display. Football and a dinner dance were to follow.

Ground breaking for the new American Legion clubhouse followed the parade at Alhambra.

The American Legion was to stage its annual Armistice cabaret at the Marigold Gardens, in Monrovia, tonight. A large parade, a program in Library park and a football game were features for today.

Kern county centered its celebration at Bakersfield, when that city held one of the most extensive parades ever attempted. An all-day program, including ceremonies at City Hall park was planned.

Other celebrations included:

Memorial Service

Pomona—Parade, followed by memorial service at Garfield park.

Tulare—Six posts of American Legion celebration, athletic events, rodeo, program at Tulare county fair grounds.

Puente—Special services at Hudson grammar school, flying circus, basket lunch and dance.

Porterville—American Legion celebration, automobile race, bicycle race, fireworks.

Hanford—King county Legion posts to celebrate, public schools taking part.

Ontario—Community chest appeal to be featured in parade in which 53 floats entered. New city lighting system to be turned on tonight.

Huntington Park—Veterans of Civil War to be guests of veterans of all wars, who will aid American Legion celebration. Two football games and a grand ball also were planned.

Glendale—Parade of war veterans and school children.

ARMISTICE DAY IS CELEBRATED THROUGH SOUTH

FRESNO, Nov. 11.—The California Districts association today resumed its two-day session after voting its unqualified endorsement of the proposed constitutional amendment restricting riparian rights and voicing its enthusiastic support of the Boulder dam bill.

The present law, which entitles riparian owners to the full, unrestricted flow of a stream riparian to their lands, was attacked as a creator of a "selfish dog in the manger" by Fred Yoakum, of Merced.

Under the proposed amendment, riparian ownership of Yosemite National park, to include 30,000 acres, was adopted over the protests of representatives of Turlock, Modesto and Merced irrigation districts.

DEPUTY CHARGED WITH GEM THEFT

MADERA, Calif., Nov. 11.—Charged with theft of a $400 diamond, Deputy Sheriff H. M. Dodson, today, was in custody here.

Dodson was accused by Dan Meagher, of Oakland, of stealing the gem from his stickpin when he was arrested for driving an automobile while intoxicated here early

The Weather

Los Angeles and Vicinity—Fair tonight and Saturday with moderate temperature. Southern California—Fair and mild tonight and Saturday; gentle variable winds. San Francisco and Vicinity—Cloudy with slight rains late tonight or Saturday; moderate temperature; fresh southeast or south winds. ## BANANA WAR OPENS IN GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, Nov. 11.—After a prolonged meat war, and a stubborn rubber war, to say nothing of the oil trouble, London has now its banana war.

The contestants, moreover, are fierce and almost ruthless. One side is headed by Lord Vestey, the 70-year-old multi-millionaire, head of the Union Cold Storage and of the Blue Star Line. He and his adherents are determined to break the monopoly which has hitherto had the field to itself.

The monopoly imports Jamaican bananas. Lord Vestey is hoisting the flag of the smaller but no less haughty Brazilian fruit.

"Of course, I have the idea of making a little money," says Lord Vestey. "But I also want to put Brazilian bananas really on the market. The business is still more or less in the experimental stage, but we are developing. You wait a couple of months."

All the advantage of the big bananas is on the side of Jamaican bananas. Four hundred thousand stems of them are frequently landed in one week in London, as against 40,000 bunches of Brazilians.

On the other hand the ordinary Jamaica banana is nearly twice as dear as the Brazilian, but English people seem to prefer them because they look riper.

But Lord Vestey is now bringing in his bananas by the 100,000 bunches at a time and he reckons the cheapness of his commodity will win in the end.

Arm Specialists Beautify Women

LONDON, Nov. 11.—For years women have flocked to their favorite beauty specialist to have their ankles massaged, creamed and drilled into the approved splendor of grace and beauty.

Now, the ankle specialist is yielding his place to the arm adept, who is called on to give shapeliness and balanced proportions to the arms which, it is now recognized, can make or mar the smart appearance of the women who keep pace with fashion's dictates.

START NEW WEBER BAKERY

On the left of this group of men is Willard Smith, supervisor from the fourth district, and the shovel with which he turned the first shovelful of dirt that inaugurated the construction of the Weber Baking company's new plant on the site at the junction of Placentia avenue with the state highway. Others, left to right, are F. L. Purinton, "cowboy" mayor of Santa Ana; J. W. Costello and Dale Weber, president and vice-president, respectively, of the bakery concern.

Local Briefs

Herbert J. Cordrey, of South Pasadena, suffered a broken leg when he was struck by a Boulevard Express truck near San Clemente late last night according to a report at the Santa Ana Valley hospital. Reports of the accident were meager. He was received at the hospital at 12:30 a. m. His condition is not serious.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 11.—The home of Mrs. Cameron at Cameron Acres was the meeting place for the Willing Workers' club Wednesday afternoon. The women present sewed for a family of four where there is sickness and plans were made to make a heavy woolen comforter for a sick mother who has a family of small children.

The next meeting was announced for two weeks from Wednesday and will be for all day at Costa Mesa at the home of Mrs. Fred Folkerson. Present at Mrs. Cameron's home were Mrs. A. C. F. Warner, Mrs. Maxie Cowling, Mrs. Maxine Hart, Mrs. Sara Hodgins, Mrs. Jessie McDowell, Mrs. May Elliott, Mrs. Ed Woods, Mrs. Harriette Dowty, Mrs. Minnie Bell Spears, Mrs. Florence Smith, Mrs. Bessie McGuire, Mrs. E. P. Mitchell, Mrs. Frank Catching and the hostess, Mrs. Cameron.

Ruth Stinson celebrated her 13th birthday anniversary Wednesday with a party at her home, at which a number of her young friends were her guests. Present were Eva Preston, Nellie McIntosh, David Gardner, Ruth Friend, Alvan Friend, Agnes DeBusk, Sumi Akayama, Toshiki Furuta, Delma and Naomi Stinson, James and Jo Stinson, and the honoree, Ruth Stinson.

Mrs. Bertha Brown of Santa Ana, spent two days this week as the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huff, returning home Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snasdel and children, Craig and Winifred, were recent dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hoke at Newport Beach.

Mrs. J. W. McIntosh and daughter, Nellie and Eunice Mary, attended the radio reception held at K. P. B. L. Los Angeles, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McIntosh and family attended on Thursday evening at the Huntington Beach auditorium a musical program.

Mrs. Harriette Dowty is each evening attending the revival services which are being held this week at the Christian church at Huntington Beach.

GROUND IS BROKEN THURSDAY FOR NEW PALATIAL HOME OF WEBER BAKING COMPANY HERE

Construction of the $150,000 Orange county plant of the Weber Baking company was officially started at noon, yesterday, when ground-breaking festivities were held on the site purchased by the baking company, at the junction of Placentia avenue and the state highway, and across Placentia avenue from the Orange county fair grounds.

The ceremonies were featured by the assembly of a large group of men and women prominent in civic affairs in their respective communities, followed with a chicken dinner served at the dining room of the fair association by the Legion Auxiliary of Anaheim.

Willard Smith, representative of the fourth district on the board of supervisors, officiated as toastmaster following dinner, and called upon a number of men for impromptu remarks.

Greetings to the guests on behalf of the company were extended by J. W. Costello, president of the Weber Baking company. Costello recited briefly observations of the company made preliminary to selection of the site. He pointed out that investigations had revealed that it is in the center of a population of 104,000 in a county containing a population of 110,000. He commented on the fact that his concern would employ between 35 and 40 workers, and stressed particularly the point that only residents of Orange county would be employed in the plant and that all material entering into construction that could be purchased locally would be bought in Orange county. # LITTLE DAMAGE IS CAUSED BY OCTOBER RAINS

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 11.—Rains during the latter part of October and the fore part of November have caused little damage to crops, E. E. Kaufman, federal-state crop expert, announced today, and have been of considerable benefit to growing vegetables.

In the Salinas valley and Watsonville districts, however, rain followed by high temperatures caused much slime and reduced the lettuce yield materially, according to Kaufman. In the Santa Maria valley rain also damaged the lettuce crop.

The Salinas valley and Watsonville lettuce shipments will be heavier than last year, but the movement from the Santa Maria valley will fall short.

Approximately 8,850 acres of celery will be harvested in the state, or a crop of 132,000 crates. The acreage is divided as follows: San Joaquin Delta, 7,400 acres; Los Angeles county, 450 acres; Orange county, 300 acres; San Diego county, 500; Santa Barbara county, 200.

In the tomato districts, the Santa Maria valley and the Brentwood section of Contra Costa county are practically the only areas that have entirely escaped either frost or late blight, the report said. The Ventura county crop has suffered severely from late blight, causing a 50 per cent reduction in shipments. In Orange county the condition of the crop is estimated as 80 per cent of normal.

In the neighborhood of 7,850 acres of artichokes will be harvested, compared with 9,400 last season. By counties the acreage is as follows: Marin, 300; Monterey, 2,600; San Luis Obispo, 800; San Mateo, 1,800; Santa Cruz, 2,700. Approximately 12,000 acres of cauliflower will be harvested, against 9,250 last year.

PAROLED CONVICTS ARE GOOD WORKERS

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 11.—Convicts paroled from California state prisons have earned $14,217,598 and saved $349,120 since the parole law was adopted in 1932.

This was disclosed here today in a report submitted by State Parole Officer Ed Whyte to Governor Young.

In the 34-year period since the act went into effect 12,218 convicts have left the stone walls of the prisons upon the parole board's decision that they could make good.

Of this number only 2199 have violated their ticket of parole, 783 of whom returned to a life of crime, and 1144 finding their way back to prison.

California's prison population, including paroles, stood at 7885 at the beginning of this month. A total of 1855 prisoners were on parole, or 24 per cent.

Attorney Denies
Rumor Of Hempel
Suit Settlement

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Irving Ernest, attorney for Frieda Hempel, operatic soprano, in her litigation against August Hecksher, multi-millionaire, says that negotiations for a settlement are pending, but denied rumors that Miss Hempel had settled out of court.

Miss Hempel is suing Hecksher for $48,000 which she contends is due her for a year's salary under an alleged contract made with the millionaire in April, 1926, wherein he is alleged to have agreed to pay her $48,000 each year in quarterly installments in return for her singing for charity.

Miss Hempel is in Europe on a concert tour.

PETITIONS FOR DIVORCE FILED
BY 4 PERSONS

Slight change was noted today in the character of the stream of divorce complaints which is steadily flowing into the office of the county clerk. Four more appeared, all filed by the wife, with one exception. Desertion, cruelty and infidelity are the favorite grounds for desiring separation.

Clarence E. Miller asks for a divorce from Mrs. Anna Miller, who resides at Leavenworth, Kansas, with three minor children. Miller asserts that his wife left him in 1925.

Augusta E. McFarren, alleging that her husband forced her to undergo an operation shortly after they were married in 1911, claims that she has been sick ever since, and asks for a separation on grounds of cruelty.

Hazel E. Schurr said her husband told her that there would be no love lost if she left his home and that his other similar remarks were emphasized with a blow on the head which made her unconscious. She also alleges cruelty as the cause of her request for divorce.

Joseph P. Gibson is said to have ordered his wife to leave their home, saying that she was nothing but a meal ticket anyway. Apparently he finally deserted her for this is alleged in the complaint.

Labor Leader To Be Given Honors

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Timothy Healy, picturesque labor leader, will be given a testimonial banquet at the Hotel Commodore here December 6. He will leave office as president of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers January 1, after nearly 25 years of continuous service.

Healy is known to every industrial hamlet in the United States and Canada. With Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell, late president of the United Mine workers, he has played an important part in the history of the American labor movement.

LAGUNA BUILDING
BEING REMODELED

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 11.—A. R. Bishop, who recently purchased the Murphy building, corner of Ocean avenue and Coast boulevard, for $75,000, is remodeling the building. The upper story is to be made into a small hotel, each room to have a bath in connection.

The stairway entrance is to be located in front, so that it goes up from the boulevard instead of from Ocean avenue as at present. Pillars to give the building a more massive and impressive appearance are to be used on the outside of the structure.

FUTURE WOMEN WILL DOMINATE
MEN OF WORLD

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Women of the future will dominate men, according to John Langdon-Davies, English scientist and writer, in his book "A Short History of Women," just published.

This prophecy is based upon actual conditions in America and Russia today and on the history of woman's place in society from the earliest days up to the present.

"American men," says Langdon-Davies, "subjected to the discipline of present business methods, must become as a group, less and less interested in life, and more and more absorbed in making a living. They will become more mechanical and less imaginative, more absorbed in things and less in people. Already they have reached the stage where another interest excels their interest in women, and in this way they resemble the knights of chivalry who preferred horses and war to women, for they prefer cars and commerce to them."

"Finding themselves amply provided with the means to do what they like and finding also that their own sex is better educated, more alive emotionally and imaginatively than the other, what will American women do? They will continue the process of de-intellectualizing men until these become convenient robots, they will patronize and dominate the arts and literature and reorganize social institutions to suit themselves.

"Finally there will be discovered and elaborated a strange concept, the male character, and the male human animal will find himself hidden and forgotten beneath an artificial creation embodying all the traits which render him most convenient to his wife. Nothing can stop this process unless a means can be found to prevent any woman being educated and to render birth-control a forgotten aberration of ancient history; for once both sexes use their reasons equally, and have no unequal penalty awaiting the exercise of their emotions, then women cannot fail to dominate. Theirs is the stronger sex once nature and art cease their cruel combination against them."

DANCES FORBIDDEN
BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.—Catholic priests in this archdiocese are forbidden to attend dances or to assist in organizing them, no matter how laudable the purpose may be. Regulations adopted by the plenary council of Baltimore in 1884 are to be enforced by Archbishop Curley.

Police News

The Watkins Bootery reported to police that a man had passed a fictitious check there for $2, yesterday. A description of the man was given officers.

N. C. Nelson, police officer, is recuperating at his home at 2820 North Main street, from an operation he submitted to several days ago.

STATE PRINTER IS VERSATILE
YOUNG WORKERBy HOMER L. ROBERTS
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 11.

—Whether it's setting type by hand, feeding a printing press, handling the "joy stick" of an airplane, pitching baseball game, peddling mail on a rural route, or editing a newspaper—it's all in the day's work for Carroll H. Smith, California's new state printer.

For this versatile young state official has had a career that reads like a book of fiction. Yet when you get to know him you'd hardly call him a "soldier of fortune."

Smith was virtually born in a printing office. It's the place he feels most at home, and he's already making a hit among officials at the capitol by the manner in which he is handling the big state plant.

He and his father and a brother

still are partners in the business of conducting four San Diego county weeklies—the La Mesa

Scout, the El Cajon Valley News,

the Ramona Sentinel and the Lakeside Journal.

The elder Smith hails from Coffey county, Kansas, where for years he was a contemporary of

William Allen White, conducting

a newspaper in a town 30 miles south of Emporia. This county,

by the way, also produced Walt

Mason, the noted rhymer.

The Smith family migrated to California in 1911, and C. O.

Smith, the father, took over the

El Cajon Valley News. Later he acquired the other three papers.

Carroll finished high school at

El Cajon, graduating in 1913. He worked for a year in the San Diego postoffice as a rural mail carrier, and in the fall of 1914

entered the University of California at Berkeley.

Here he studied journalism, majoring in English. He served on the staff of the Daily Californian for two years and made the varsity baseball team, occupying the pitcher's mound for three years.

War broke out and Smith enlisted in the Marine corps. He trained at Mare Island and later was transferred to the aviation branch of the "leathernecks."

He was in the aviation ground school at Boston Tech, and first flew at Miami, Fla.

Before he went east, however,

Smith got married. His bride was

Miss Bernice Chambers of Oakland.

While he was away in Florida their first child, a son, was born.

The armistice arrived before the young aviator could complete his flying course. So instead of taking an immediate discharge he completed his course and got a commission. He was retired to inactive service in May, 1919.

Smith was president of the La

Mesa Rotary club when he was appointed by Governor Young. He is also a member of the A. F. &amp;

both the El Cajon and La Mesa posts of the American Legion.

THE GREAT DAY

Let's just remember, when we are celebrating, that Armistice Day was the day when a war that might very handily have destroyed our modern civilization was stopped on the brink of the precipice. In our humble opinion, November 11 should be to the world what July 4 is to the United States.

It strikes us that S. A. Ana is a mighty good place to live. What do you think about it?

NEW ROAD OVER S.A. MOUNTAINS TO BE OPENED

Through the efforts of Joe Beek of Balboa Island, a district in the Santa Ana mountains formerly closed to visitors is being opened. By Christmas it is expected that it will be possible to drive from Santa Ana to Corona by an entirely new route.

Beek, who acquired a tract of 600 acres at the top of the range, from the Southern Pacific company about a year ago, interested Corona citizens in the advantages of a road from Corona to Santa Ana over the mountains. Largely through his efforts, a road, financed by Riverside county, the forest service and private contributions was built to the Orange county line.

A road to meet the Riverside county improvement is now under way, with this county and the forest service financing it. The road is scheduled to be finished by Christmas. It goes by way of Black Star canyon and opens a new district to motorists.

Cat Gives Alarm Calls Out Police

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 11.—Whenever Tabby, the city treasurer's cat, yearns for human companionship, all she has to do is press the magic button and it isn't long before she has all she wants. This she knows from her recent experience.

When the alarm in police headquarters screeched and jangled violently, the police officers hurriedly seized their revolvers, shotguns and clubs and raced to the city treasurer's office. The riot squad was called out and all hands hit the deck.

When they arrived, they saw Tabby, who had inadvertently stepped on the button which sets off the burglar alarm, purring innocently and wondering what it was all about.

And police, after admonishing Tabby to be more careful in the future, retired discreetly from the scene.

"HOPE YOU GET TO BE A GENERAL!"

"I hope you get to be a general some day," Capt. A. L. Barber, of the U. S. Army, told Alexis Felix DuPont as he swore him into the air service. Here's the ceremony.

Entire DuPont Family Has Taken to Aviation; Son in Service

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 11.—A strapping scion of one of America's richest families quitting business life to become a cadet in the air service of the United States army—

A middle-aged little Italian inventor, winning at last, after 16 years of seemingly futile struggle, the recognition and financial backing essential to a poetical just success—

These twin bits of romance mark the adoption of aviation into the family of enterprises engaging the wealth and personal interest of the DuPonts, Delaware multimillionaires and industrialists.

The strapping scion who has turned cadet is Alexis Felix DuPont, 20. He gave up college after two years, discarded prospects of becoming an industrial magnate and said goodbye to the attractions of high social position to put on khaki and join scores of other youths in the democracy of an army aviation school at San Antonio, Texas.

The middle-aged little Italian inventor is Giuseppe M. Bellanca, builder of the airplane in which Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine flew from New York to Germany. An inventive genius tossed about for 16 years by financial misfortune, Bellanca has been taken under the wing of the DuPonts just as William B. Stout, another aeronautical genius, received the backing of Henry Ford a few years ago.

With finances provided largely by the DuPonts, Bellanca is to establish a factory near Wilmington for the production of his airplanes on a quantity scale. A modern airport for the home town of the DuPonts and a school for the instruction of commercial pilots, are projected along with the manufacturing enterprise.

Young Alexis DuPont already had learned to fly before he presented himself at the Camden recruiting office as a would-be army air service "rookie."

Flies Own Plane

In fact he flew from Wilmington to Camden in his own airplane on this recent occasion. He took with him the full approval of his wealthy relatives. They will be as proud as he when the day comes for Uncle Sam to commission him a second lieutenant of the air service and authorize as a decoration for his uniform a pair of silver wings.

And Bellanca, who has built record-breaking planes and proved himself a genius, but has been unable heretofore to see beyond to-morrow financially.

"I am very glad," he smiled, when it was announced the DuPonts, with a few other capitalists, would back him. "I hope to be able to help make flying cheaper, safer and more dependable. Flying is commonplace now, but there yet is much to be done."

In the year 1849, on the shores of Silver Lake, at what is now Gibbstown, New Jersey, in an old grist mill, the firm of John Lucas & Co., Inc. had its beginning. It was here that Mr. Lucas made the first non-poisonous Green manufactured in this country in 1865, and originated the first "straight" linseed-oil mixed paint in America in 1872.

From this humble beginning the House of Lucas has grown to be one of the largest paint and varnish manufacturers in the world. The old grist mill has grown to be one of the most modern and complete factories in the country manufacturing all products used in the protection and beautification of every conceivable surface.

We will give away a $30 prize to the winner—all you have to do is register your name and address any time up to 8:30 p. m., Saturday, Nov. 12th. But the feminine bloc is distinctly a "silent partner" at the cabinet meetings from the "first lady" down to the chattiest club-woman.

The women are literally seen and not heard. The only woman, who raises her voice in the council, is Mrs. Anna L. Sayler, and she is required to give an official accounting of the Department of Social Welfare as its director.

Otherwise, there is no wagging of tongues on the part of the women and the men are left to guess what governmental ideas are tucked under their velvet hats and permanent waves.

CANTANDO CLUB
GIVES CONCERT
HERE NOV. 28

The Cantando Club, under direction of Leon Eckles, is rapidly getting into form for the first concert of its second season. It was stated today by A. H. T. Taylor, secretary of the club.

Stating that the first concert would be given on the evening of Tuesday, November 29, Taylor said the chorus is slightly larger than last season, when it was composed of 50 male voices.

The world-wide interest in the French Riviera, he could not raise the money for the trip. The event is recent.

At the first race on the Venice Lido, in 1920, there were, in addition to the officials concerned, exactly seven spectators. This year 150,000 persons witnessed the contest. Notable for his absence was Jacques Schneider, Alsation industrialist, who in 1912 donated the trophy. Living in poverty on Italian Aero club forgot him until it was too late to send him rail-

The club is offering Associate memberships as the only means whereby tickets for these concerts can be definitely secured. There will be no box office sale of seats. Much success has attended the efforts of the active members in the placing of associate memberships, and only a few remain to be disposed of. They are priced at $5.00, $7.50 and $10, according to the location of the seats in the high school auditorium and represent four tickets for each of three concerts to be sung in November, December and May. Sale of memberships will conclude this week and the application forms are in the hands of all active members of the club, the Santa Ana Book store, Crystal Cleaning company, Foster-Barker Music company, Service Drug company, and at the Ladies' department of Vieira & Wilson.

"The club will make no other public appearance in Santa Ana, except at its own concerts, with the possible exception of taking its part on a program during National Music week, as it did with the municipal band last May and those who enjoy and appreciate the wonderful music of a men's chorus of fifty to sixty voices, will do well to secure their associate membership at once," Taylor said.

TO SPEAK ON ORIENT AT Y
MEET TUESDAY

Recent developments in the Orient will be presented to a Santa Ana audience on Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. by Lawrence Todnem, of Tsinanfu, when a dinner meeting will be held to afford local men and women an opportunity to meet and hear it was announced today by O. H. Barn, president of the Y. M. C. A., who also added that the dinner and meeting would be open to men and women, with service starting at 5:30 o'clock.

Todnem has been in China for 12 years. He is a native of South Dakota, where he graduated from the Dakota Wesleyan University in 1912. He went to China in 1915 as a Y. M. C. A. worker and since that time has been located in Tsinanfu, the capital of Shantung province. His life in that city has been full of unusual experiences. In addition to serving as general secretary of the Y. in that city, he was made treasurer of the International Famine Relief committee, an organization which handled over $2,000,000 in the famine of 1921. Later he was made famine commissioner for the province, and secretary of anti-opium society. In general he was used by the Chinese leaders as a fellow worker in handling many of their most important problems.

These connections have given Todnem unusual opportunities for studying the troubles in China, as well as international relations in general," Barn said. "He will bring to the meeting the full benefit of his observations and studies."

SEES CLOSER TRADE
LINES WITH ORIENT

SEATTLE, Wn., Nov. 11.—The next few decades will determine in a large measure the lines of our future commerce with the world. Dr. Julius Klein, department of commerce trade expert, declared before the Seattle Chamber of Commerce.

Klein said, "There is some evidence that the trade lines of the future will knit the United States most closely with the relatively nearby countries of China and Japan."

He called increased trade with the Orient "the outstanding feature of post-war conditions."

"Our task," he said, "is to maintain our present rate of progress in penetrating the markets of the Far East. It is not an easy task and it will take the best efforts of our individual manufacturers and exporters of our trade association and of our government agencies."

POLITICAL PATH OF SCANDALS IS POINTED TO

NEW YORK. Nov. 10.—Paths of scandal and political inefficiency extend from New York to Kansas City, Dr. Luther Gulick, Columbia university professor and director of the National Institute of Public Administration, told the governmental research conference holding a three-day meeting here.

Examples of "debauchery in government" are on exhibit in New York state, Indianapolis, Chicago and Kansas City, Dr. Gulick said.

On the encouraging side of political activities are the reforms and present good governments in the cities of Rochester, N. Y., Buffalo, N. Y., and Cincinnati, he said.

The New York secretary of state is charged with disgraceful pin money regulations.

"I am not sure what is the proper attitude to take toward a régime which is systematically corrupting and disintegrating what little administrative efficiency Chicago has ever had. The cry, 'burn the books,' arouses in our blood memories of martyr's and inquisitions, of wars for liberty, but it diverts attention from the political manipulation of taxes, assessments, building inspections, enforcement of laws and the protection of citizens."

Even "young Tammany of Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Mayor James J. Walker" was characterized by the professor as still a tiger and not a "peroxide blonde." But he added that New York for the first time in its history came to regard a "slight-of-hand budget" as unethical.

"Prohibition enforcement has continued to debauch police administrations in scores of cities where the Volstead act is regarded as an alien imposition," he said.

"The oil leases have at least been given their true color. Some portraits which have been done in oil by the federal courts will long hang in the hall of shame. Is it possible the crime wave has engulfed our public life?"

JACK LOCKWELL

By Patten

The puffing report and the dazzling glare, which came from a flame that leaped up and vanished, gave those unmasked boys a numbing shock. Price Hargan, the leader, was the first to recover. He had seen one fellow, who still wore a hood and stood apart from the others. "Look there!" cried Price. "There he is! And he's taken a flashlight snapshot!"

"You're right, Hargan, old cheese!" confirmed the unknown. "I've got the Anti-Lockwell League! I've mugged the bunch unmasked and holding your pretty hoods."

"Grab him!" shouted Hargan. "Don't let him get away with this! Smash that camera!" Leaping forward, he met a surprise. Instead of dodging, Lockwell plunged into him like a battering-ram, and sent him sprawling. "Center rush!" whooped Jack joyfully, as he smashed Cub Maddox down and went rippling through the others. ## SMALL NUMBERS BANNED

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Numbers 1 and 2 will not be worn by the well-dressed basketball player this winter, on the ground those numbers are harder for a referee to distinguish on a busy court than 4, 5, 6, etc. A note in the new rules urges teams not to use numbers 1 and 2.

SPORTSMATTER

FRANK GETTY
UNITED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Out in South Bend the other day I met a droll, laughing, lazy-lidded youngster who was known by the name of "Sleepy" Crowley. So pleasant and so mild, withal, were the manners of this slender young man, that it required a second look to realize that he was indeed the mighty "Sleepy" Crowley of "Four Horsemen" fame.

There is little suggestion of that thunderbolt speed and strength which swept aside the defense of Notre Dame's opponents in the victorious year, A. D. 1924, about Jim Crowley in his street clothes. He seems light, to have been the terror of Rockne's greatest backfield, but if you happen to recall, when "Sleepy" took 'em out of play in those days, they stayed out.

"Sleepy" Crowley was in South Bend to scout Georgia Tech for Georgia. He is backfield coach at the latter school, and drilled the team which romped to victory over Yale last month.

At the time, Georgia's victory over the Bulldog did not seem particularly surprising, nor yet impressive. Yale was written down as mediocre and little was thought of the Southerners' victory.

Now, with old Eli standing out as the best football team in the entire east, Georgia's success takes on a new significance.

Crowley says Georgia has "a right good ball club." It is collegiate, at the moment, to refer to a football team as "a club" or "a ball club."

"Sleepy" watched Tech taking a licking at the hands of Notre Dame and left with the prediction that Georgia will beat its Southern conference rivals in the big game December 3.

Georgia Tech went to South Bend with the reputation of having turned back the "Crimson Tide" of Alabama. This had not been accomplished for a couple of seasons, and Tech received a lot of credit from the experts.

Rockne's capable Notre Dame boys took the wind out of the "Golden Tornado" in short order, and before the game was half over, Knute was pulling out his regulars and beginning to save all hands for the more-dreaded Minnesota game the following week.

"Stumpy" Thompson proved himself a good defensive back, but he couldn't gain against the Irish. The punting of Mizell was the most impressive feature of Tech's play.

"Sleepy" Crowley says that his Georgia club has the finest pair of ends in the south, and that Tom Nash and Chick Shiven, the wing men in question, rank with any he ever has seen work.

Of the backfield men, whom he coaches, Crowley had less to say, but he admitted that McCreary, his fullback, was just about the best in mauling today.

The non-scouting sentiment of the east has not affected southern and mid-western football to any appreciable extent. In South Bend for the Georgia Tech game were southern coaches watching the "Tornado," army officers spying on the "Irish," Minnesota grads looking over Rockne's attack.

But none of them need think Knute Rockne minds.

The day before the Georgia Tech-Notre Dame game, I attended secret practice and saw Rockne's second team run off the visitors' trick plays against the Irish first team, run them off more smoothly than did the Southerners themselves and gain more yards by the use of them!

PROSECUTOR TO LET DUNDEE AND MANAGER RETURN EAST; FINANCIAL WOES UNSETTLED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11.—Joe Dundee, welterweight champion, and his manager, Max Waxman, today were preparing to return to Baltimore with the full consent of City Prosecutor Dr. E. J. Lickley.

Lickley's decision came late yesterday after a conference between the city prosecutor, the fighter and the manager. It was agreed that Maxman and Dundee might go east although they are under bail here awaiting trial December 2 with Promoter Dick Donald for false advertising in connection with the Dundee-Ace Hudkins "blowup" of November 3.

The city prosecutor's change of heart is said to have come from the fact that he has evidence to show that Dundee and Waxman started for home the day after the fight on the advice of Captain Seth Strelinger, a member of the state athletic commission. Strelinger, who late yesterday definitely announced that Dundee and Waxman were suspended from the ring in California, defies this.

Financial woes continue to be set those attempting to straighten out the affair. There will be approximately $74,000 to take care

LONG LOSES BOUT ON FOUL AT H. B. ARENA

Wendell Has Big Edge On Roland Beynon Until Fatal Low Punch

Wendell Long lost a fight at the Huntington Beach Athletic club last night because of a low blow that he struck Roland Beynon in the first round of a schedule three round fight. Referee Tom Davis called the blow after a protest by Beynon's seconds. Beynon was floored and in considerable pain but desired to continue the bout.

From the ringside the blow was clearly a foul but apparently accidental. Long shot a hard left jab that caught below the belt as Beynon crouched to avoid the terrific lacing that Long was administering.

The fourth spot proved to be the best of the evening when Tony Sheffler, a product of the navy, mixed it with Walter Hough, a boy with lots of stamina and an iron jaw. Sheffler got the nod after a slugfest.

At the end of the third round of the curtain raiser Referee Davis called the affair a draw but after Eddie Beebe returned to his corner and as the bell sounded for the fourth round Beebe's seconds tossed the towel in the ring and Clifford Tarbell had his hand raised.

Jat Jacobson and Bobbie Morton put on a friendly little dancing skit in the first round. The referee jumped Jacobson at the end of the frame for pulling his blows and Pat came out with a flurry in the second only to have Morton lay down like old Fido after a light left to the shoulder.

Johnny Alaya who was knocked cold last week profited by that affair and made a much better fight, stopping Johnny Roscoe in the middle of the second stanza.

PASADENA PUPS LUCKY TO WIN CONFLICT, 14-6

Clyde Cook's Lightweights Outrush Undefeated Foe Favored for S. C. Title

Playing inspired football, a driving line and a hard-fighting backfield of Coach Clyde Cook's Santa Ana high school Class B football eleven outgained, out-played, outgained and did everything but outscore the undefeated and league-leading Pasadena Bullpups in yesterday's Coast Prep. loop at Poly field.

The score was 14 to 6.

Pasadena came here with a great reputation, obtained after a series of overwhelming victories over every team it has opposed this year. The Bullpups have been rolling up tremendous scores on their victims and was fully expected to add the Poly lightweights to their list by a count anywhere from 25 to 50 points.

Instead Cook's "Bees" attended strictly to their knitting, forgot all about this superhuman stuff and fought the visitors off their feet all through the afternoon. Pasadena was lucky to score at all and luckier still to win.

Returns Punt 55 Yards

The first Pasadena touchdown, made in the last few seconds of the first half, was the result of a 55-yard return of a Poly punt by Miller, Pasadena's state champion Class C sprinter last season. Miller got away from half a dozen local tacklers and never stopped until he deposited the leather behind the Santa Ana goal.

Pasadena's second score was made in the last minute of the second half after two "breaks." Kicking from their own 15-yard line, the Pups recovered the ball in midfield when Hilligass fumbled and when they kicked again they gained possession of the ball once more on the local 2-yard line when a Santa Ana player touched the ball and allowed it to get away from him, a Pasadena falling on it. Long plowed over the last line for a touchdown before time was called. The aliens converted both touchdowns.

Pinnix Makes Touchdown

Cook's henchmen scored in the first period after an impressive march of 80 yards straight down the turf. Hilligass, Hales, Pinnix and Smith all contributing substantial gains. Pasadena was never able to break up the offense and Pinnix finally went over the line for the extra point.

Santa Ana made nearly twice as much yardage as Pasadena but lost nearly every break or else it might have stopped the enemy's long winning spurt. The lineups are incomplete.

Coach Howard Jones will go

north tonight to see Washington, a future Trojan foe, in action with California and all of the other members of the Los Angeles tutoring staff will be away so Cravath will be in full charge of the Trojans.

A similar situation will present itself at Stanford when the Cardinals take on Santa Clara.

Winterburn, former Santa Ana coach, will have authority over the Big Red team while "Pop" Warner and "Tiny" Thompson go over to Berkeley to scout the Bears.

"Buddy" Forster, the former Fullerton football idol, was unanimously elected captain of the freshman team of the University of California at Los Angeles. Forster's play has been nothing short of sensational with the Bruin Babes and he is looked on as a vassity timber in spite of his lack of weight, he weighing little more than 130 pounds. He scored four touchdowns against the Sherman Indians last Saturday.

At the end of the third round of the curtain raiser Referee Davis called the affair a draw but after Eddie Beebe returned to his corner and as the bell sounded for the fourth round Beebe's seconds tossed the towel in the ring and Clifford Tarbell had his hand raised.

PRINCETON NOW FAVERED OVER ELI TOMORROW

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—A wealth of good football games, led by Yale-Princeton and Army-Notre Dame, are on tomorrow's football schedule for the east.

New York and New Haven will be the scenes of the immense crowds.

Here Knute Rockne will bring his thus far undefeated Irish to play the stubborn Army team. It is estimated 75,000 people will watch this annual game.

Yale Bowl will be the scene of the other big eastern game when the Tiger advances, undefeated, on the crippled Yale team. Yale is crippled sorely by the loss of Bruce Caldwell, star back through all his ability. Odds favor Princeton.

Harvard meets Brown. The famous "Iron Men" of last season have been unable to do much this year. Cornell meets the powerful Dartmouth team at Hanover.

210,000 EXPECTED TO SEE MID-WEST GAMES

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Two important intercollegiate football games and one contest with an annual bearing on the Big Ten conference championship head Saturday's football schedule for mid-western college teams. More than 210,000 persons will witness these three contests.

More than 82,000 tickets have been sold for the Michigan-Navy clash.

At Champaign, Ill., Bob Zuppke's University of Illinois eleven, which alone of the Big Ten elevens is undefeated and untied by conference opponents, will attract 53,000 persons. The crowd will see Illinois in action against Chicago, a team which since 1922 has often spelled trouble for Champaign elevens.

CALDWELL COACHES YALE BACKFIELD PASSERS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 11.—Bruce Caldwell, whose football performances this season made him one of the backfield stars of the nation, never again will play football for Yale.

The board of control of the Yale Athletic Association last night refused to reinstate Eli's hero.

Caldwell returned to the campus yesterday after a hurried trip to his home. He reported at the practice field, donned his uniform and coached the varsity backfield in passing.

The bears tomorrow play their last game before the California-Big Game with Stanford and the possibility of some surprises in the way of play are foreseen.

The Huskies were to have a light workout at the stadium today to get the feel of the ground for tomorrow's clash.

WET WEATHER PREDICTED FOR BERKELEY GAME

Both Teams Hope for Fast Field in Order to Use Their Open Formations

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 11.—While the Huskies of the University of Washington and the Golden Bears of the University of California hoped for fair weather and a dry field for their football game here tomorrow, the United States weather bureau announced that "they might get by without rain."

Coach Enoch Bagshaw of Washington wanted the ball dry and the sod firm for a varied attack that will permit full use of his passing game and power plays of his heavy backs.

The Californians wanted a dry field, in the hope that their lighter team can outspeed the big men.

But the forecast for the bay region was "light rains late tonight or Saturday." Fresh winds were promised, which may prove a added handicap to an aerial game.

The huskies arrived in Berkeley today to find themselves 2 to 1 favorites over the Bears.

In every game of the season, despite the relative strength of the teams as displayed in their contests, however, the visiting team has been favored to win, so observers today were inclined to narrow the odds, conceding at the same time that things look bad for the Bears.

Due to the showing the Huskies made against Stanford last week, although defeated, and the fact that Stanford has a stronger team than California, if scores against teams both have played are taken as the basis for estimating football ability, fans think the big Husky team will wade through the Bears but not for a large score.

The bears tomorrow play their last game before the California-Big Game with Stanford and the possibility of some surprises in the way of play are foreseen.

The Huskies were to have a light

BRITON THINKS NEW EUROPEAN WAR CERTAIN

of them may offer the excuse for war. If war breaks out in any one of these spots, it will spread automatically. Nothing can halt it.

The situation resembles a hill-side of loose rocks; if one is moved, the rest come down in an avalanche. That's the position in Europe today.

To mention only the most important danger points, there is Bassarabia. That province must go back to Russia or there will be fighting. We might as well make up our mind.

Then there are Hungary and her neighbors. Millions of Hungarians were torn from their homeland and put under Rumanian, Czechoslovakian and Jugoslavian rule and the League of Nations does nothing to safeguard these minorities.

Italy and Jugoslavia will have trouble over the Adriatic sea question, particularly over Albania.

Then the Polish frontiers with Germany is a danger zone and the Polish corridor toward the sea and Polish rule over upper Silesia and Posen will lead to war inevitably if the situation goes on.

Tangiers Delicate Spot

Another delicate spot is Tangiers and the French and Italian interests in northern Africa.

Commander Kenworthy sketched a hypothetical situation which might start an European war and bring in both Great Britain and the United States.

Great Britain is laying down more warships than at any time since the armistice. So is the United States. All signs point to naval rivalry between the United States and Great Britain.

The professional militarists of the United States are demanding a navy second to none.

In Great Britain our professional militarists and navalists demand a navy as big as the largest other navy in the world.

The only way out is to legalize and outlaw war and, by so doing, Great Britain and the United States could banish war from the world.

Armistice Speakers See New War In Offing

A world which nine years ago emerged from the most disastrous war ever fought, paused today to remember the millions who died in that conflict.

In the midst of the solemn regret for the dead in this country was an almost general declaration that America may be called on again to go to war.

Speakers urged adequate preparedness.

Edward F. Spafford, commander of the American Legion, said in an address in St. Louis that a greater war was coming. He advocated a mighty mobilization of the nation's men and resources when it does come.

War Clouds on Horizon

There are war clouds on the horizon at the present moment, Dwight F. Davis, secretary of war, said in a Washington address.

Representative John Q. Tilson, majority leader, urged in a New Haven address a standing army and navy that would afford sufficient national protection.

In Hardinsburg, Ky., powerful preparedness was urged by Dan Sowers, director of the Americanization commission of the American Legion.

In London, on the other hand, a great propaganda movement in favor of disarmament as the only way to prevent a new war was begun by statesmen, newspaper publishers and others.

Armistice day celebration here and abroad was, as in other years, the two minutes of silence at 11 a. m. in honor of the dead. The machinery of business and transportation of great cities paused while the people turned their thoughts to the fallen.

Other observances included ceremonies at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in the capitals of the allied countries and visits to the cemeteries.

In Pittsburgh Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the war president, spoke at the unveiling of a plaque in his memory.

Spafford Says U. S. Must Prepare For New War

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 11.—The World war did not establish an enduring peace and America must prepare for other bigger conflicts, Edward F. Spafford, national commander in an Armistice day address here today. Calling on legionnaires to crusade against internationalism, Commander Spafford denounced the national defense act of 1920, which he asserted provides for "an army on paper only."

Pleading for nationalism he forecast a future war in which there must be no profiteers and no exemption from draft of men or material resources.

"Last War Not Fought"

"The last war has not been fought," he declared. "We came out of the war not to celebrate a cessation of hostilities.

"The people of the country are coming to the realization that the last war did not end war—that only an armistice was signed. All the resources of the nation shall be completely mobilized at the beginning of this war."

The group operates airplanes on the Pacific coast. Its station will have a range of about 30 miles during the day and possibly 60 miles at night.

The commission authorized KHAC to broadcast on 204 meters (1470 kilocycles), with 50 watts power.

The prisoners are Monroe Quarles, 16; Myrtle Bullard, 17, and Desire Delfonte, 18, and all are said to have confessed to the three robberies in a telegram received by Sacramento police.

program have arranged one of the most spectacular exhibitions ever seen in the world for the late afternoon hours, when 5000 homing pigeons will be released at one time. Pigeon fanciers the world over are watching the event with interest and representatives of the signal corps and the intelligence divisions of the U. A horse show, featuring many of the best hunting and jumping horses in Southern California, will occupy the early evening hours. The event will be held at the high school grounds. Seats in the grand stand at the horse show also will command a view of the fireworks display. The fireworks are to be sent up from the hills just back of Fullerton.

Dancing will be the attraction in three parts of town. Armistice day dance committees of the Fullerton Legion post will be in charge of the dances, which will start at 8 p. m., and continue until midnight. LAGUNA BEACH
ROAD DEFECTS
COUNCIL TOPICHigh School
Is Scene Of Legion Meet

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 11.—A special meeting of the Huntington Beach post of the American Legion was held in the local high school auditorium yesterday morning with the students as an audience. Six members of the Huntington Beach union high school faculty who were participants in the World war were escorted to the platform by the sergeant-at-arms of the local post. The opening exercises of the American Legion were conducted by Commander Burry and Chaplain McAdams.

Dirt Chokes Culvert

As a result of highway matters, the city clerk, G. W. Prior, was instructed to write the state engineer and ask him, with a highway commissioner, if possible, to meet with a committee from the council and City Engineer A. J. Stead to go over the defects to see what can be done. Not only does earth slide from the embankments along the narrow walks, rendering the walks useless in wet weather, but dirt from the fills has entirely choked the big culvert in Sleepy Hollow, so that there is no channel for rainwater, and it must back up and form a pool.

Highway Sinking

Another defect of the highway is a spot that is sinking, and which may result in making the highway dangerous unless it is given attention.

N. E. West again directed the attention of the council to the need of a walk at the comfort station on the beach near the highway and asserted that funds for finishing work started some months ago had been promised by the county. Mr. West stated that $650 had been promised, that a contracting firm had accepted the job and had done considerable work, including extending the storm drain. The work had been stopped, according to Mr. West, when the need of a retaining wall, not included in the plan, made it impossible to continue the work. The contractors had not been paid for what they had done, and could not continue, he said. It was his expressed belief that the money was still available and that the city should authorize the construction of the retaining wall and get the job finished. After discussion by the council, the matter was referred to Commissioner George S. Johnston and the city engineer for action.

Fowls Regulated

Ordinances passed to third reading at the next meeting of the council included the regulation of fowls and other domestic animals within the city limits, creation of a department of health and prescribing its powers and duties, regulation of public camps in Laguna Beach; regulation of the use of drinking cups and glasses, authority for the health commissioner to condemn and compel removal of certain plumbing fixtures, sewers and cesspools, regulation of camping on beaches, public streets, alleys, parks, and passageways.

Zoning Urged

A letter urging the zoning of Coast boulevard for business was read before the council and precipitated a discussion as to the merits of such zoning. The council was not in entire agreement but the difficulty of any action, inasmuch as permits were used for business purposes in most of the length of the street, with a petition to remove restrictions from a stretch from Foster to McKnight's addition, made action impracticable, it was thought. The necessity of a city planning commission was suggested and the city attorney was directed to procure a copy of the new law regarding city planning commissions. The matter of a commission had previously been referred to a committee, which had not acted because of lack of information. The present voluntary planning commission resigned some weeks ago but the resignations have not taken effect pending the appointment of a new one.

DAY PROGRAMSORANGE COUNTY COAST IS SEEN MECCA FOR TRAVELERS;
GEELEY NAMES COMMITTEES

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 11.—The Orange county coast was pictured as the mecca for people from all parts of the county, by speakers at last night's dinner session of the newly formed Orange County Coast association at Laguna Beach.

T. C. Hitchings, of the Irvine Club Estates, outlined the development planned on the 610 acres being developed. He reported that in three weeks the bids would be reported back on the new $350,000 club buildings. The plans, he stated, included a yacht harbor, an 18-hole golf course overlooking the ocean, tennis courts and a veritable playground for the public.

Greeley Names Aides

The chair was occupied by J. P. Greeley, president, and the work of appointing committees was pushed through with rapidity. He was unanimously elected permanent head of the organization. Committee heads were appointed as follows: Ways and means, Ole Hanson, San Clemente; advertising, Richard Burrud, Dana Point; water conservation, W. B. Marville, Huntington Beach; roads, S. H. Woodruff, Dana Point; T. C. Hitchings, Commodore Cash of the Newport Harbor Yacht club; parks, H. H. Henshaw, Laguna Beach; airplane landings, Frank Smith, Balboa.

Secretary Denslow invited the association to meet next time in Huntington Beach. This was accepted and the next meeting will be held the second Thursday in December.

Coast Line Favored

Hitchings said that he came here from Denver and that all of his friends there were looking forward to the day when they could come to California. He said that daily acquaintances from this section came in to see him desiring to locate permanently here. What is happening in his local section, he said, was taking place all over the United States. Most of these people are looking for a location near the ocean, according to Hitchings.

Tells of Survey

J. S. Malcolm, of San Juan Capistrano, talked of the work being done by his chamber of commerce on the new survey for a new road to Elsinore and he believed that shortly there would be another route to Lake Elsinore.

C. G. Boster, mayor of Huntington Beach, which city had the best representation present, recounted the work of the old South Coast association in putting through the present highway.

Coast Values Increase

J. A. Armitage, of Sunset Beach, told of the values of coast property at the Malibou estates above Santa Monica. He stated that lots 100 by 175 sold for $20,000 and up. He told of a recent visitor from the east paying $65,000 for three lots, which was $1000 per front foot for coast line property. He stated that the coast association had the same ocean and the same possibilities for advancement of prices.

Others who made talks before the association were K. P. Fredericks, LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 11.—Increased interest in Laguna Beach by outside capital was shown this week, when 44 feet fronting on Coast boulevard was sold to S. E. Lambert and Clarence E. Cook, Pasadena capitalists.

The property lies on the south side of the boulevard between Ocean avenue and Foster street and on the bank of the slough. It was formerly owned by L. E. McEwen, of Riverside, and is occupied by a restaurant operated in the summer time only.

Four teams of canvassers have been organized under Mrs. E. Seale, Henry M. Adams, the Rev. Thomas H. Walker and R. W. Balch as captains and the city has been divided into four districts, each one of the teams being assigned to one of these divisions, Mr. White announced.

Giving to the many national and foreign disasters which have made necessary Red Cross relief work during the past year, this year's national roll call quota has been set at 5,000,000 members as compared with 3,000,000 members which was the objective of last year's campaign, Mr. White stated.

Besides the various local projects financed from the funds of the Anaheim chapter last year, Anaheim money went to relieve suffering following the Mississippi flood, the Florida hurricane, the St. Louis cyclone and now is helping during the present flood in ANAHEIM BEACH, Nov. 11.—Anaheim, Nov. 11.—One thousand and memberships at one dollar each are to be sought by volunteer workers in the annual Anaheim Red Cross roll call which is to open tomorrow morning, according to announcement today by H. N. White, drive chairman announced today.

Four teams of canvassers have been organized under Mrs. E. Seale, Henry M. Adams, the Rev. Thomas H. Walker and R. W. Balch as captains and the city has been divided into four districts, each one of the teams being assigned to one of these divisions, Mr. White announced.

It is said that the new owners intend to make improvements on the property. This is the third sale within a month to Pasadena capitalists of business property in Laguna. The consideration in the McEwen sale is given at $14,000.

Alisip, assistant cashier of the First National bank, and esquire of the lodge, has been nominated to fill the vacancy and is expected to be elected to the post at the next regular meeting.

Pearce's resignation was handed to the board of trustees at the regular meeting Wednesday night and was accepted with expressions of regret. He leaves after three years service here and has announced no plans for the future.

Alisip has been associated with the First National bank for the past seven years, rising from the position of bookkeeper to the position he now holds. His retirement from the bank is to become effective November 15 and he will take over his new duties at the club December 1. No successor has been named in his position. President H. H. Benjamin stated this morning.

Besides taking an active part in Elk work, Alisip is a member of the chamber of commerce, Toastmasters club and is one of the founders and a past president of the Anaheim Young Men's club.

Included on the site will be a garage, batery shop, wash rack, tire shop and gas station. The building will be of the old English type of architecture, conforming with the building nearing completion on the opposite corner.

The buildings will be finished within six weeks, it is estimated.

DUNLOP CITY

Throughout the world the productive Dunlop properties cover so vast an area that—if combined into one place—they would form a "Dunlop City" of over 100,000 acres.

THE great industrial capital of the South—Atlanta, with her 19,634 acres—is but one-fifth the size of "Dunlop City."

And even greater than the size of "Dunlop City," is Dunlop's world-wide reputation for building uniformly supreme Dunlop Tires.

Supreme quality made possible Dunlop's great size. In turn, Dunlop's great size makes possible this same supreme quality, at lower prices than ever.

You can expect more of Dunlops.

It Was A Peaceful Valley

By Olive Roberts Barton
It was the kind of autumn day when even the paved highway seemed out of place.

One wanted to get out into the red and golden October world and roll it as a cat rolls in catnip.

Not five hundred yards had we gone from the public trail, when there crossed ahead of us a covey of fat quail, too tame, too fat, or too lazy to fly—perhaps all three.

We stopped the car and they recrossed in two's and three's to their corn-field piled thick with newly stacked shocks. There they kept up a continual conversation of cooing bird noises.

A quarter of a mile along our quiet lane through a flare of red maples, we came to a farm house. There was a smell of burning wood and the thought that popped into my mind instantly came true. An old-fashioned copper kettle as big as a wash-tub hung over a fire and a woman beside it stood stirring applebutter.

Further along a man was chopping wood. Winter had already reached the top of the hill where the darker brown of the trees gave evidence of hard night frosts.

At another place a man with a team and dray was scraping the dirt road. November rains could make hermits of these people altogether if care was not taken to keep the way as clear as possible.

It was a long road and we passed many farm houses. Everywhere there was evidence of work and more work. No time for bridge and cocktail parties and debates on the woman question. Man worked and woman helped him. Simple ethics that!

Is our chaos growing out of a desire to shun work, and a determination to substitute excitement for peace? It seems a cheap substitute! It was a very peaceful valley.

"Hello, there, bunch," the clown cried out. Then he began to prance about. "I'm feeling pretty happy, and it's just because I'm free. Nailed in that barrel was a fix. Now that I'm free, I'll do some tricks, and if you want to get some laughs, just keep your eyes on me."

The Tinies laughed to see him jump and hit the ground with quite a bump. It didn't seem to hurt him 'cause he wore a constant grin. He leaped across the barrel top and then inside he took a flip. He'd jump right out, then turn around and promptly jump back in.

This clown had on a funny suit, with big round spots. It looked real cute. His funny face was painted just as white as white could be. Upon his feet he seemed real light. His hand springs pleased each Tinymite. They stood and watched him closely so's to see all they could see.

And then the clown looked at the bunch, and shortly said, "I have a

You must have a bleach, several bleaches, and again you go to the kitchen—lemon juice for nail and finger stains, bleaching freckles and such marks, and laundry starch made into a paste and spread over the face and arms, as a general whitener.

Face powder you must buy, but bath powder is nothing but cooking cream starch which is soothing and cooling to the skin, perfumed with a little sachet powder. Nail cream is ordinary cold cream, rub it in well at night and it will do wonders toward keeping the finger nails smooth and young looking. Vanishing cream is so useful for temporary or for quick beauty treatments and for ugly elbows that it is well to have a small jar of a good quality for the few times you need it. If you have a fairly small stock of cosmetics, you'll get along very well with beauty treatments at home. Half the things you use come out of your kitchen anyway—and the other half are not expensive.

You must have a cold cream, cleansing or flesh building, just as you wish, depending on whether your skin is naturally dry or oily, and on your age. If you make the cream yourself, you might as well make it flesh building; it will also cleanse the skin, all oily cosmetics will do that. I'd suggest you take the general cold cream formula in the "Beauty" pamphlet, and make it up with half mineral oil, as it says, and half the finest olive oil. This gives you a cream good for wrinkle massage, rough or chapped skin, and yet the cream is light and very

If you have a fairly small stock of cosmetics, you'll get along very well with beauty treatments at home. Half the things you use come out of your kitchen anyway—and the other half are not expensive.

You must have a cold cream, cleansing or flesh building, just as you wish, depending on whether your skin is naturally dry or oily, and on your age. If you make the cream yourself, you might as well make it flesh building; it will also cleanse the skin, all oily cosmetics will do that. I'd suggest you take the general cold cream formula in the "Beauty" pamphlet, and make it up with half mineral oil, as it says, and half the finest olive oil. This gives you a cream good for wrinkle massage, rough or chapped skin, and yet the cream is light and very cleansing.

You must have an astringent, but a lump of ice from the refrigerator is as good as anything you could buy to tighten the pores and relaxed muscles of the face and neck. Enjoy Hospitality
Of Babbitt Home

Miss Evelyn Babbitt entertained a group of "country cousins" Wednesday evening, in her home at 23 East Walnut street, greeting them upon their arrival, at the back door of her home. Indeed they were such oddly dressed guests, that even the most hospitable hostess would hesitate to admit them at the front door.

Once arrived, however, they drew off their rural shyness and timidity at city ways, and enjoyed a lively session of bridge. Miss Babbitt did not give her prizes upon skill at cards, however, but upon skill at selecting amusing costumes. Miss Ruth Dahl taking first prize, Miss Grace Smith, second, and Miss Mildred Vieira, third.

Bridge was followed by several amusing contests planned by the hostess, and the evening's merriment reached its climax at the supper hour. For the card tables were laid with cloths cut from newspapers and decked with other evidences of rural style. The guests then sought their places in little groups of four to enjoy the individual supper boxes distributed by Miss Babbitt.

Gathered for the merry evening were the Misses Helen West and Ruth Dahl of Anaheim; Ruth Vieira, Mildred Vieira, Grace Smith, Della Iman, Betty Finch, Laura Anderson, Katie Buxton, Barbara Westcott, Beth Westcott, and the hostess, Miss Babbitt.

Pythian Sisters

Santa Ana Temple
The Santa Ana Temple, Pythian Sisters, met in regular session at Tuesday evening, in the K. P. hall. Following the business session, several candidates were elected, Mr. and Mrs. Ross A. Howe and P. C. Phillips.

Arrangements were completed for a pot-luck supper to be held November 22, at 6:30 o'clock, in celebration of the third anniversary of the Santa Ana temple. The Knights will have the assistance of the Pythian Sisters on December 7, when the local lodge will entertain the supreme chancellor.

Local B. and P. W.'s
Visit Los Angeles
Law Club

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Cushman were in Los Angeles last night, the physician to attend a meeting of anaesthetists, and Mrs. Cushman, prominent woman attorney of this city, to attend a dinner of the Women Lawyers' society of Los Angeles, of which she was once a member.

The latter meeting was in the beautiful Artland building on Seventh street, where the dinner was followed by a program on which Judge Leon Yankwich of the Los Angeles superior court, was chief speaker. He chose "The Libel Law in Connection with Newspapers" as the subject of his talk, which was an intensely interesting one. Before his elevation to the superior bench, Judge Yankwich had gained a reputation of being one of the finest authorities on the libel laws that the state could produce.

Mrs. Cushman was accompanied by Eleanor Young Elliott who gave a number of readings on the program. Miss Peggy Halloran, young Los Angeles attorney who was speaker at the recent reciprocity dinner in Fullerton, of Orange County Business and Professional Women's clubs, had charge of the program. Both Mrs. Cushman and Mrs. Elliott are members of the Santa Ana B. and P. W.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Missionary Anniversary

Dahlias, chrysanthemums, zinnias and sprays of cotoneaster offered bright welcome to members of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church when they met in the church parlors, Wednesday afternoon.

"The Whole Wide World for Jesus" was the appropriate opening hymn, which was followed by prayer by Mrs. Allen, president, routine business matters and secret reports. Mrs. Roy Johnson, program chairman, asked Mrs. Worley to lead the devotional service. Mrs. Worley is a sister of Mrs. O. Scott McFarland, and with her husband and family, recently arrived from the Chinese mission field to spend a year's furlough in Santa Ana.

Mrs. Worley chose "Stewardship" as her theme, and developed it both convincingly and interestingly. This was followed by the special program in celebration of the 125th anniversary of the establishment of Presbyterian national missions in America, with Mrs. C. F. Smith giving a graphic resume of the advance and growth during the century and a quarter. This was illustrated by a colored map showing all the stations in the United States and its possessions.

An informal social hour was the final enjoyable feature, and ninth grade mothers served the refreshments which crowned the evening.

Thimble Club Holds Pleasant Session

The Martha Washington Thimble club had a delightful meeting Wednesday afternoon, when its members were entertained by Mrs. Sam Jernigan.

Needlework was the prevailing entertainment, but was well seasoned with lively conversation. At the tea hour, Mrs. Jernigan served appetizing refreshments.

CYPRESS P. O. TO OPEN IN FEW DAYS

The Cypress post office is expected to open for business within the next few days, it was announced today by Mrs. Stella Bowen, postmistress.

Lock boxes and other equipment have been installed for some time. The post office will be in the Friday block, completed recently.

Highway Ditch Will Be Filled

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 11.—Work started this week on the installation of a drain pipe along Golden West avenue, just west of Westminster. The pipe is of concrete. This will enable the ditch along the side of the boulevard to be filled.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Espy, Miss Wanda Mae Espy, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Bowden, Miss Acevia Bowden, Miss Lulu Bowden, Miss Louise Bowden, the Rev. William E. Sinner, Mr. and Mrs. Otto C. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Squire, Miss Mary Ellen Squires, Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Page, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Forney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Crawford, Louis Hanson, Mrs. Mary Howell, Herbert Walker, Miss Lucille Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walker.

Kings Heralds

The King's Heralds of the First M. E. church were guests at a "silver banquet" given recently by their "mother" society, the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, entertaining at the church, on the 25th anniversary of the King's Heralds.

The tables, in the shape of an H, were very pretty, being decorated in blue and silver, their colors, with nut cups and other appointments to harmonize. A bog cake with 25 candles held the place of honor.

Following the anniversary song by the Heralds and prayer by Dr. Eulene Peo, was the enjoyable dinner.

The program included greetings by Dr. Peo, W. F. M. society; re-

Mr. Mills Speaks To Nursery Men

Urging that Santa Ana be made the flower city of the country, Dr. E. M. Mills, 2924 Poinsettia street, a former president of the National Rose society, spoke before the Orange County Nurserymen's association, which held its monthly meeting at the Ketner cafe on Wednesday night.

Dr. Mills said that Santa Ana ranked third in membership in the National Rose society and suggested inaugurating a campaign which would put the city at the head of the list.

Approximately 40 nurserymen of the county were present at the meeting which started with a dinner.

Of course it's jazzy, but refined jazzy music at St. Ann's Inn every Friday night.—Adv.

HOME ENTERED BY BURGLARS; $7 GONE

Seven dollars in cash was stolen from the home of W. A. Taylor, 2410 Bonnie Brae avenue, sometime yesterday according to a report made to the police department.

The thief entered the home while members of the family were away, it was reported. Entrance was gained by removing putty from a French window and then taking out the glass and unlocking the window from the outside. The money was taken from two purses in a cabinet in the house. Nothing else was disturbed. Officer C. V. Adams was assigned to the case.

Court Notes

Sues on Note

T. S. Ban, of Garden Grove, probably still has the goods, while J. P. Loubet has his promissory note for $419, which he claims has not been paid. It is said to be past due, however, and Loubet today started action in the Superior court to recover judgment for that amount.

Wants Piano

A piano bought from Robert Shaffer by Robert Williams, is alleged to be held in a Costa Mesa home, while Williams is charged with keeping himself out of sight. It was learned today from a complaint lodged at the court house. Shaffer asks the court to order Williams to deliver the piano or to give him judgment against him for $460, which includes the price of the piano, alleged damages and an attorney fee.

Asks Divorce

With her husband, Ivon Gillaspy, serving a nine months' sentence in the county jail for passing alleged bad checks, Mrs. Ruth Gillaspy today had started divorce proceedings against him in the Superior court. She alleged that he had blacked her eye at one time, that his mother took his side and kicked her in the hip, as well as pinching her arm and threatening to spank her. She asks the custody of their two children.

APPROVE SUBSIDY

PARIS, Nov. 11.—The finance commission of the chamber of deputies has approved a proposal to grant a subsidy to the Latécoère Airplane company for a French-South American Air service.

The beauty killer

HERE, it strikes a beautiful woman—and in a few years her charm will have fled. . . . Here, it grips a promising man—soon he will sink, with blighted prospects, into obscurity.

What a deadly affliction constipation is! Thief of youth. Robber of strength. Evil forerunner of disease and misery! It destroys health! It kills beauty!

What a blessing that there is relief from this dreadful scourge! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation—promptly.

Why ALL-BRAN alone is effective

ALL-BRAN has "bulk." This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it through the intestines, gently distending them—cleansing, eliminating poisonous wastes. How different from part-bran products which contains so little bulk that there is hardly enough to have any effect at all. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Because ALL-BRAN is 100% bran.

Different from habit-forming drugs

And contrast ALL-BRAN with dangerous drugs and pills—which become useless unless the dose is constantly increased. ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Let it soak a few moments to bring out all its nut-like flavor. Serve it with other cereals. In soups. Recipes on every package.

Don't risk a part-bran substitute. Insist on genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants and cafeterias. On diners. Made by the Kellogg Company in Battle Creek, Mich. Write for free "Treatise on Constipation."

TALLER, stronger, bigger 'round the chest—that's the Western youngster. Government statistics prove it.

There's no food like milk for building husky youngsters—for building healthier grown-ups, too.

Use plenty of milk in your cooking. Meals will be more nourishing, more appetizing—especially if the milk is Alpine. There's cream in every drop.

Alpine is pure full-cream milk, made doubly rich by removing more than half the water, then homogenized so that this double supply of cream is evenly distributed through every drop.

Delicious in coffee. Improves every recipe that calls for milk. Costs less than ordinary milk—so rich it saves butter in cooking. Get Alpine today.

YOUNG'S STATE TAX BODY WILL SUBMIT PLANS

By CLEM WHITAKER
Staff Correspondent Santa Ana Register

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 11.—A sales tax embodying the "pay as you buy" plan, may be chosen by Governor Young's state tax commission as the way out of California's revenue dilemma, it was reported in the capitol today.

Proponents of the tax are said to favor a levy of about one-quarter of one per cent on all general merchandise sales, or possibly only one-eighth.

If employed, the sales tax would be substituted for the present personal property tax, which has proved difficult of collection, according to the state's fiscal agents. Instead of taxing a merchant on March 1 on the "goods on hand," the state, under the "painless tax," would take its one-quarter of one per cent on daily sales.

Sponsors of the sales levy point out that the tax would tend to equalize the taxation burden. The farmer and small home owner would benefit particularly, as the owner of real property is the only one who has no escape from the present personal property tax. Merchants, on the other hand, may not think kindly of the new tax. Under the personal property tax, the assessor has no means of knowing the true inventory of a merchant's stock and the state believes it has been liberally short-changed.

The sales tax, it is estimated, would return from 25 to 40 per cent more revenue than the personal property levy. Furthermore, content its backers, the tax would be so widely distributed and so easy of payment that the payers might be expected to yield with little struggle.

Riverside county personal property, as reported to the state has a valuation of $5,265,890. By applying the county's tax rate of $2.11 inside incorporated cities and $3.71 outside, the present tax can be computed. And by jumping this amount about 25 per cent the interested taxpayer can determine what the minimum income from the sales tax will total in Riverside county.

The merchant, however, can determine his tax under the proposed measure much easier. He need only estimate his daily sales and use one-quarter of one per cent as his tax rate.

In Orange county the personal property valuation is much higher—$19,983,755, to be exact, but the rates are far lower. The inside tax rate in Orange county is $1.55 and the outside rate $1.91. Again, the taxpayer must add 25 per cent to the personal property tax to determine the revenue under the sales levy.

Ventura county, on the state books, has the fourth highest personal property valuation in the state—exceeded only by the three metropolitan counties of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda. Its valuation is placed at $34,077,375 and the tax rates are $2.25 inside incorporated cities and $2.50 outside.

Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda county merchants would contribute the great bulk of the tax, it is evident, as they are the big trading centers.

"Painless taxation" is the objective of the tax commission—a tax, in other words, that the people can pay without "feeling it." The sales tax, some of the commissioners believe, would be practically painless.

While several members of the tax commission favor the sales tax on all merchandise, it is reported that some of the commissioners may stand out for a tax on sales of luxuries only. The luxury tax proponents place tobacco, cosmetics, etc., among the luxuries, although heavy smokers and ladies addicted to makeup include these items among life's necessities.

Barber Refuses To Bob Tresses

PARIS, Nov. 11.—There is one barber in Paris who won't cut women's hair. His shop is in the French senate building—the Luxembourg palace. There are no women in the French parliament, he was never asked to clip female locks until the interparliamentary conference, at which some of the delegates were from countries with equal suffrage for the sexes.

One of the German women delegated by her country to attend the sessions went into the senate barber shop, took a seat in the chair and demanded a trim.

"I'm sorry, madam, but I can't accommodate you," the barber said. "I don't know how. I never gave a woman a haircut in my life, and I'm too old to learn such a new trick now."

So the German woman had to go elsewhere. She was the only one among the dozen or more women at the conference who wore bobbed hair.

Bandit Executed For Many Crimes

VIENNA, Nov. 11.—Practically all the crimes in the calendar were charged to Martin Leclian, a young bandit whose execution is reported in a dispatch from Olmutz. Because of Leclian's desperate record troops were on duty when he was put to death. Among the crimes which were laid to his door were murder, highway robbery, burglary, theft and arson. Leclian, who was 27 years old, had a woman accomplice in many of his deeds, but he refused to betray her and she is still at liberty.

NEW COMPANY
LONDON, Nov. 11.—A new company, with a capital of between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000, is to be formed, it is understood, following the amalgamation of the Vickers and Armstrong Whitworth armament firms.

VERTICAL RISING PLANES PASS TEST

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Successful tests of two new departures in aeronautics, a vertically rising plane of revolutionary design and a propellerless airplane motor, are announced respectively by the Curtis Aeroplane company and Harry N. Atwood, veteran aviator. The obstacles to perpendicular flight have been surmounted in wind tunnel tests at the Curtiss laboratories at Garden City, N. Y., of a new type of air machine which can climb at the rate of 1900 feet a minute, it is announced, and the Curtiss directors voted to produce a standard plane of this type to cost $75,000.

The new Curtiss plane, which embodies some of the principles of the auto-lyre, is the invention of M. B. Bleeker, 24, who said the idea came to him while he was a student in the aeronautical department of the University of Michigan.

The model tested has four wings, though the proposed standard machine is to have three. These wings are on a horizontal plane and rotate above the fuselage. Propellers will be placed in the wing motors half way out on the leading edge. While the ability of the plane to rise vertically is described as phenomenal, its forward speed will be from 50 to 75 miles an hour. Company officials believe this will be no deterrent to its immediate application to commercial and military purposes.

An internal combustion engine developing power without the use of a propeller by utilizing the exhaust for a forward drive, much like a rocket, has been put to successful tests at Philadelphia, Atwood announced at Springfield, Mass.

The engine is bottle-shaped, with all of the mechanism inside. Its exploded gases may be discharged either into the air or water, permitting its use either as a marine or as an airplane motor. Atwood said the first model as tested in Philadelphia, weighed 4.8 pounds and developed 3.8 horsepower. Large engines, he said, would reduce the ratio to less than one pound per horsepower, less than one-half that of existing standard airplane motors.

LOCAL PASTOR TALKS BEFORE S. A. LIONS CLUB

"The great man of today is a person with deep feeling," the Rev. George Warmer, pastor of the First Methodist church, declared yesterday before the luncheon gathering of the Lions club. Stressing the importance of emotional life, the speaker declared that the feeling and deep sympathy of Abraham Lincoln were responsible for the Emancipation Proclamation.

The Rev. Warmer stressed the fact that Lincoln recently has been named by H. G. Wells as one of the six greatest men of all time. Deep thinking, coupled with determination, are two other qualities necessary to greatness, he said.

Formerly emphasis was placed on "rights," while today "obligations" and service are the outstanding attributes of greatness, he declared.

A knowledge of the value of human life is another development of the modern era.

"Not till people knew the value of human life did Watt usher in the new civilization with the invention of the steam engine," the Rev. Warmer said. The pioneer scientists as well as the modern ones have contributed immeasurably, he pointed out, to the improvement of the world.

Touching on the importance of deep thinking, the speaker noted that it is an indoor sport which few people care to indulge in, but he gave a striking instance of its power when he stated that Lew Wallace, author of Ben Hur, the book from which the movie of that name was taken, wrote the entire descriptive part of the movie without visiting Palestine, where part of the story is laid.

On a visit to that country after the volume was published, Wallace discovered that there was not a single phase of the description which should be changed. Wallace's thinking power had enabled him to perform the feat successfully, the speaker said.

Filling his address with numerous personal incidents in the lives of great men whom he discussed, The Rev. Warmer concluded by saying that the world, in spite of the progress made, is just beginning to step out on the threshold of things possible, laying the foundation for doing things in the future which will be truly marvelous.

Sally Lee Scales, accompanied by Ruth Armstrong, entertained the gathering with two vocal solos. J. H. Hughes was in charge of the program.

JOINT PROGRAM HELD BY BEACH LEGION. SCHOOL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 11.—An audience of 600 enjoyed a program given at the Huntington Beach grammar school by the pupils of the various grades and the American Legion of this place. The entertainment was an Armistice day observance sponsored by the local post of the Legion.

An orchestra of 25 pieces opened the program. The orchestra was under the direction of Miss Frances Van Horn of the music department of the school. The flag salute was followed by "The Star Spangled Banner." An outstanding number on the program was the "Kinderband," composed of pupils from the kindergarten, numbering about 25. The fourth and fifth grades rendered a number that carried the title of "Unselfish Service." The act represented the soldiers of the various wars of the United States.

W. A. Huff spoke concerning various heroes. Huff was followed by Harlen C. Reid, member of the Huntington Beach post, who introduced the various members present from the Legion. J. M. McElveen spoke on the prizes offered by the local post for the best essay submitted by the pupils of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades dealing with the Armistice day celebration in Fullerton today. A prize will also be offered by the Legion for the class having the largest number in the parade in Fullerton.

L. C. Denlow, member of the local post and secretary of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce, spoke on the solemnity of the occasion and paid a high tribute to the disabled veterans of the war. The American Legion was commended for its work in behalf of the disabled veterans.

Songs by girls from the eighth grade closed the program. The chorus was under the direction of Lillian Hansen.

IN MEMORIAM

Today is the ninth anniversary of the day on which the armies engaged in the World war laid down their arms. For three years prior to that time, the people of the United States had been keyed to a high pitch of patriotism. They had made innumerable sacrifices and endured much for what they believed to be a great cause. Many heads are grey today because of the suffering endured while sons were at the front, and there are vacant places at firesides with only a mound in France, and sometimes not even that shrine at which to pay homage to those who gave their lives that there should be no more war,—that theirs should be the last bloody sacrifice to the creed that "might makes right." It is fitting that today we should review the deeds that have been accomplished in the interest of keeping faith with those who sacrificed their lives.

Great things were accomplished during the period of the war. Individuals found reserve powers within them which enabled them to accomplish more in the interest of the winning of the war than they had ever been able to accomplish before. They were faced with a crisis and met it admirably. Petty quarrels and differences were forgotten. People banded together—worked in unison and wasted little time in disputes over who should receive the laurel wreaths for accomplishments. People performed whatever tasks came to their hands to do with a vim; whether it was a job which the nation called upon a man to do or merely a homelier task involved in "keeping the home fires burning." If we could today infuse ourselves with the spirit of those days, could regain some of the vitality that inspired us during those days, we might still keep faith with those who so gallantly fought our battles.

Time has dulled the pain which wrenched our hearts during the war, but those same dead lie in Flanders' Field. Joyce Kilmer, with his beautiful messages, is not with us, nor Alan Seeger, who so bravely kept his "rendezvous with death." And many others, who had not time in their short lives to glimpse the success which might have been theirs, are absent.

Let us not quarrel so long over the instruments which are aimed to bring us peace that we lose sight entirely of the goal of a permanent peace. The words of Lincoln at Gettysburg apply as truly today as they did when they were spoken: "It is for us, the living . . . to be dedicated . . . to the unfinished work which they who fought . . . have thus far so nobly advanced. It is . . . for us to be . . . dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain . . ."

"MOTHER INDIA"

India has been much aroused by a book written by Katherine Mayo bearing the title above. It is a searching study of the life and habits of the Indian people. It is a book, as some one has said, which the world ought to forget, but which India should remember. It finds the woes of India, not in foreign domination and exploitation, but inherent in her own religious system of caste and sexual degeneracy. The pictures that she draws of conditions are shocking in the extreme, and if India is half as bad as she paints it, the continuance of British rule is absolutely essential to justice and decency. She makes bold to quote the statement which has been made before that a week after the British left India there would not be a virgin or a rupee left.

This sudden discovery of the irretrievable moral degeneracy of India leads one to inquire why some one has not discovered it before. We are prompted to make that inquiry too in the light of the fact that Miss Mayo has recently written a similar book concerning the Philippines, where she finds exactly similar conditions to justify her indictment of the people and her defense of foreign domination. One would like to know how Miss Mayo would write up American life if she were to examine it in the same spirit of detachment as she does the life of the Philippines and of India.

There is no gainsaying the facts which are brought out by Miss Mayo with regard to India. They are a horrible indictment of Hinduism, and we suspect the indictment is justifiable. But any one who has read articles recently showing how the hardest facts of our industrial civilization are the direct result of the Puritan teaching, because Puritanism made fundamental in its teaching the harmony of the favor of God and business success, may well question whether Miss Mayo's inferences concerning Hinduism are any more justifiable. We are rather inclined to believe that there are forces in India at work,—Ghandi, for example,—which are bearing down upon these abuses as much as some of our reformers are bearing down on the abuses of our industrial system. Were it not for the propagandist passion with which these chapters are written, the reader might be more inclined to follow Miss Mayo.

However, neither India nor any other country can afford to ignore such facts as are brought out by Miss Mayo. Facts are stubborn things. They are, as Napoleon once said, very much like the point of a bayonet; you can do anything with them but sit on them. Even the most prejudiced and the most violent of our critics may be our benefactors if they point out conditions which run counter to humanity and decency. This may be Miss Mayo's contribution to the reform of India. A less violent indictment might not have arrested the attention of the people of India. After their first paroxysms of anger are over, it might be well for them to go to work to root out such abuses as do exist.

HOW YOU FOOLED US, DOCTOR!

Dr. Dorothy Cochran Logan, London physician, was just fooling after all. She didn't beat Gertrude Ederle's time in swimming the British channel at all!

After Dr. Logan's claim had been properly investigated, all sorts of scrutiny brought to bear on the deed and the witnesses questioned, the world was informed that indeed she had done it. Gertrude Ederle sent her a telegram of congratulations. Hooray! New champion!

Dr. Logan received her check for £1000 sterling from a London newspaper and the world hailed her. Everything pretty.

Then the girl spoke. She hadn't swum the channel at all! It had all been a hoax just to prove how easy such a hoax could be put over. Also as an argument for an international commission to superintend such events.

"I believe I have made further faking impossible," Dr. Logan said in confessing her joke.

The world will agree with her. But now, what we're wondering is: how many other channel swimmers have been the same sort of job that Dr. Logan so cleverly carried through? Just where do we stand on channel champions?

No Need to Discriminate Against Women Offenders

San Francisco Chronicle

Two Chicago women, mothers of small children, have been sentenced to one year in jail for ballot frauds committed by the women as members of an election board. It is not a pleasing thought, these young mothers locked in prison for twelve months, their children deprived of their love and care. The incident is bound to be the subject of a lot of discussion as knowledge of it spreads.

But what would the objectors? There is no question that the convicted women had participated in a gross conspiracy against the purity of election. The purpose of the Nineteenth Amendment was to abolish political restrictions and immunities based on sex distinction. While the law may and does still soften the penalties to some women whose offenses are merely social or civic it cannot make such a distinction in political crimes. To do so would be to betray the principle of political equality on which woman suffrage is founded. Leaders in the suffrage movement promised that women would help clean up politics. Their influence has undoubtedly been in that direction. To grant immunity to those who commit fraud would defeat this whole-some movement and would eventually drive high-minded women out of politics.

Women must be on the same basis as men before the election laws. But strictly on the same basis. There is no sense or justice in pursuing women offenders and letting men escape. Which makes us wonder how many Chicago men engaged in election frauds at the same time as these two women have been sent to prison. Perhaps Mayor Big Bill fears that if he were to attempt the job of sending the men ballot box stuffers to jail he would have no time left to save the Nation from the books in the Chicago public library.

Armistice Day and Peace

Oakland Tribune

In all the announcements and proclamations for Armistice Day, to be celebrated November 11, there is emphasized the message of peace. From the President of the United States, through the list of Governors, mayors and other officials, those who have had occasion to call attention to the day, it has been recognized as one significant for its possibilities in promoting good will and fostering the friendly feeling among nations.

"It is fitting," says President Coolidge, "that the recurring anniversary of this day should be commemorated with thanksgiving and prayers and by exercises designed to further the cause of permanent peace through the maintenance of good will and friendly relations between nations."

Foremost in these efforts to promote international good will are men who have served in war. Those veterans who have seen service under the flag in France, in the Civil war, in the Spanish-American war, in the Philippines, and elsewhere are the real eloquent spokesmen for peace. So have they contributed, as in the recent good will convention of the American Legion in France, to a better understanding among nations. This week we will celebrate an Armistice Day, not as an occasion to foster bitter memories, but as one upon which to pledge thought and resolution for the coming of a time when there shall be no war.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor of Journal of American Medical Association

MESSAGE OF HUNGER IS CONVEYED BY PAIN
In a recent series of essays on "Cultivating the Child's Appetite," Dr. Charles A. Aldrich gives an excellent resume of our present knowledge of the factors governing hunger and the desire for food.

Hunger, as pointed out by Professor A. J. Carlson of the University of Chicago, is a more or less painful sensation located in the general vicinity of the stomach. Secondly, it is associated with headache, feeling of emptiness, nausea and weakness.

Professor Carlson found also a state of increased nervous excitability and an increased pulse rate as regular features of the hunger sensation. It is interesting to notice how perfectly the famous Norwegian novelist Knut Hamsun, describes the development of these symptoms in his remarkable novel, "Hunger."

Stomach Contractions
During the feeling of hunger there are vigorous contractions of the stomach. The pain of hunger varies according to the intensity of these contractions. The strength of the contractions is measured by having the patient swallow an empty rubber balloon. This is then pumped full of air.

When the stomach contracts the air is pressed upon and passing out of the tube that leads from the stomach through the mouth it can cause a moving finger to write on a revolving drum. At the same time the person tested records the hunger sensation by pressing a key. The contractions of the stomach and the hunger pains occur together.

The moment anything is put into the stomach the hunger sensations stop or quiet down. The sight of food, various pleasant emotions, or unpleasant ones, smoking, pressure on the abdomen, or high fever will lessen the contractions or prevent them.

Out of Control
The hunger pains are so intimately related to the processes of life that they seem to be independent of control from the brain. If all the nerves going to and from the stomach are cut, the hunger pains go on just the same when the person or the animal is starved. Thus the hunger pains are like the beat of the heart muscle which also has an internal, self-regulating apparatus.

There seems to be no other purpose to the hunger contractions than to stimulate in the person the desire for food. Apparently they have nothing to do with causing secretions that will digest food, or with preparing the stomach for the receipt of food.

DRAMATIZED PROFANITY

When at the theater I sit
I like to hear a nimble wit
Spring clever epigrams,
And I raise no objections, when
The conversation now and then
Is emphasized with "damns"
But when they sputter language vile
Upon the stage I do not smile.

When I set out to see a play
It does not please me much to pay
Three dollars for a seat
To have some actor with a leer
Spring blasphemy which I can hear
On any downtown street.

When bar-room language I would reap,
I know where I can get it cheap.

I do not need the stage to teach
Me any filthiness of speech

Or prove this truth to me
That certain types of men blaspheme,
If that's the modern drama's theme

I think we'd all agree
That there are people everywhere
Who are proficient when they swear.

I am no prude, and out of doors
I care not what some drunkard roars
To vent his stupid rage;
From certain types which walk erect
A flood of language I expect,
But not upon the stage.

Of language coarse I hear enough.
Why should I pay to get the stuff?

This afternoon I wasnt allowed out on account of ma thinking I was sassy to her when all I was trying to do was reason with her, and she was imbroddering imbroddery in her room and I was looking out her window, saying, Aw G, ma, cant I even go out for 5 minnits?

Not even for 5 seconds, and anyways you dont know the meaning 5 minnits, so dont make me laff, ma sed.

Meening I would be jest as libel to stay out for 5 hours, and I sed, Sure I do, ma, I bet I can tell you exactly how many seconds there is in 5 minnits, I sed.

Never mind, I dont care to know, I told you were not to go out and thats the beginning and the end of it, and besides I have a slate hedake as it is and I dont wish to have it aggravated, dont you know what the word No means?

Yes mam, sometimes it means maybe, I sed.

Well not today, O shah you made me miss a stitch with your chattering, ma sed, and I sed, How meny stitches could you miss altogether and still not have people notice it wen it was all done?

I dont know, a good meny, I suppose, it depends on how obnoxious people are, and anyway sutch a question, do you think Im going to take time to answer a silly question like that, I declare my hedake is getting worse every minnit, ma sed.

I never had a hedake, wate it feel like, ma? I sed, and she sed, You've had a good slap, do you remember wat that feels like or do you wish me to refresh your memory?

No mam, I sed. Meening I remembered, and pritty soon I sed loud as anything, 3 hundred, ma, 3 hundred, that's how meny.

My lands don't shout like that, wat are you tawking about? ma sed, and I sed. Seconds in 5 minnits, I told you I could tell you how many, there's inxactly 3 hundred, I did it by mental arifmetic.

O shut up, sutch a thing to shout up, now you get out of this house and don't you dare stir off the frunt steps, ma sed.

Wich I didnt, ony she forgot to make it Puds Simkinse.

THIS peasant voter cared. Also, he chose the traditional Japanese way of avenging himself. Always, the worst retaliation you can make on your enemy has been to commit suicide on his doorstep. During the Russo-Japanese war, a Tokio police captain was assigned to protect the premises of the Russian consulate, which were threatened with violence. He addressed the rioters as follows: "Honorable gentlemen of the mob: On my humble self and these my companions has been placed the responsibility, of which we are unworthy, of protecting this building, the property of our honorable enemy. I beg of you, as patriotic citizens, to depart. If you will graciously accede to this, my request, I shall be profoundly obliged. If, however, you determine otherwise, I and my companions will feel obliged to commit suicide, here before you." Whereupon the mob dispersed! But imagine an American police sergeant doing that way!

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

President Coolidge spoke at the dedication of the $2,000,000 war memorial in Kansas City.

LITTLE JOE
YOU GET SICK OF EVERYTHING WHEN YOU ALWAYS LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE.

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Barbs By Tom Sims

Mayor Thompson of Chicago cited one of those British history books they've been using in Chicago, in which George Washington was called a rebel. Well, you certainly can't say George was a Tory.

CURRENT COMMENT

By CHESTER H. ROWELL

ACCORDING to figures of the internal revenue bureau living standards in the United States last year reached the highest level ever known in the history of the world, in this or any other country. We earned and spent more money, got more for it, and distributed its enjoyment more widely, than had ever been done. By that standard, the American of last year reached the summit of human felicity.

FORMER Secretary Fall expresses his regret that his trial was stopped before he could present his defense, and explains his failure to testify in the former trial by the fact that his associate, Mr. Doheny, had testified fully to the same facts. If he means it, let Secretary Fall make good. Let him not only consent to take the stand, but insist on it as a right. Let him require his own attorneys to examine him so freely that there will be no legal limit to cross-examination by the prosecution, and if there is such a limit, let him waive his privilege. If he thinks he is innocent, let him tell all he knows. Then, and only then, will he be on trial for his honor as well as for his liberty.

ALBERT FALL is an old man, and a sick one. He has not long to live, and it can make little difference to his physical life whether he lives out the rest of it in a prison hospital or isolated on his ranch. But it will make much difference whether he dies in honor or in disgrace, whether he hands his name down to his grandchildren vindicated or disgraced. If he leaves it to his lawyers, they will seek merely to keep him out of jail. He should take it in his own hands, and, if he has any defense, make it.
